Defense Refuses To Cross Examine Harry Thaw

DECISION OF ATTORNEYS CAUSE OF SURPRISE

Central Figure In Noted Tragedy Disappointed At Being Excused

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—The defense sprung a surprise at the trial of Harry K. Thaw's sanity plea here today when it refused to question Thaw when he took the witness stand at 11:45 o'clock this morning to testify in his own behalf.

Thaw was called to the stand by Attorney Patterson, chief of his counsel.

Proves Surprise

"Cross-examination," said Attorney Patterson.

Attorney Dickson, speaking for defense counsel, then declared he would not cross-examine the witness.

The action of the defense attorneys was wholly unexpected, and created a stir in the courtroom. The moment was propitious for a recess, and Judge Monaghan adjourned the court until 1:15 o'clock this afternoon.

Thaw was summoned to the stand by his counsel after a protracted period of inactivity. He walked past the jurymen and his counsel with a slightly worried demeanor, but the muscles of his face relaxed when he began answering questions.

Thaw Disappointed

Thaw showed his disappointment when Attorney Dickson declared the defense would not conduct cross-examination. He expressed surprise at the action.

"I really was surprised," Thaw declared. "It was very dramatic."

Then he asked a question of his own:

"What do you think of the effect of it?"

After the morning session he consented to pose for six snapshots of himself by photographers. In one he went through the test of separating the fingers of his hand—a test often used in determining the mental status of a person.

BEAUTIES TO AID HOSIERY SURVEY

Scientists to Draft Follies Girls to Show Actual Stocking Styles

WASHINGTON, April 17—Follies beauties may be drafted by cold-blooded scientists at the bureau of standards in an elaborate survey of the hosiery industry, it was disclosed.

Scientific men, involved in a variety of prosaic inquires, from studies of star heat to durability tests for balloon auto tires, have launched an investigation into methods of measuring hosiery.

Some experts felt they could not get anywhere in a survey of the hosiery business without seeing the latest things in actual use. It was suggested that accurate measurements might be taken by the bureau.

Nine different methods of measuring hose have been disclosed so far. The purpose of the investigation is to fix a standardization system of measurement.

Mrs. Dora L. Gibson Is Dead

Authority on Music and Author Passes Away at Her Home Here

Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, for sixteen years head of the music department of the Glendale Union High school, prominent Glendale resident and club woman and widely known for her accomplishments as a musician, instructor and writer on musical subjects, died suddenly at 9:45 o'clock this morning, Thursday, April 17, 1924, at her home at 1321 North Maryland avenue.

Her death followed a sudden heart attack that seized her while apparently in good health and up and about her home and talking with her son, James.

Comes as Shock

The news of her death spread quickly about the city and came as a great shock to her many friends, who were loath to believe it. Only yesterday Mrs. Gibson had met and talked with friends down town and appeared to be in fine health.

During her sixteen years' service as head of the music department at the Glendale Union High school, Mrs. Gibson directed every phase of the musical activity and such were her accomplishments that she received wide recognition and was always in demand on programs of musical organizations.

Writing Two Books

At the time of her death Mrs. Gibson was engaged in writing two books, one on "Sight Singing" and another on "Public

SAYS ALL JAKE'S DESIRES FOR SON

No Political Aspirations for Self, Says Hamon's Texas Friend

WASHINGTON, April 17.—"Jake Hamon had no political aspirations for himself but he was very ambitious for his son Jake, Jr. He thought young Jake might be president some day."

This was the explanation of the late Oklahoma oil man's political activity in and around the 1920 Republican convention, given the Senate Teapot Dome committee today by Phil E. Baer, United States marshal for the eastern district of Texas, a friend of Hamon. The committee questioned Baer concerning alleged deals at Chicago.

Albanians Kill Two More Americans, Said

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Unverified rumors that two more Americans have been killed by Albanian bandits led the state department today to send a cablegram of inquiry to the American consul at Tirani.

Sinus Operation Brings Relief to White Sox Leader

CHICAGO, April 17.—Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago White Sox, today was reported as being in splendid condition following an operation for sinus late yesterday, when six incisions were made under his right eye. The sinus, it was said, was believed responsible for the asthma which has afflicted Chance of late, and to have resulted from a case of "flu."

Chance insists he will be out of the hospital and take over the management of the team soon, but his physician was not so sanguine. Further incisions may be necessary, he said, and, in any event, he wants Chance to remain in the hospital for some time.

RECALL FOR JAP ENVOY RUMORED

Tokio Officials Deny Report But Believe Hanihara Will Sail Soon

TOKIO, April 17.—"Ambassador Hanihara's work is done. Unquestionably he will not stay in Washington following a settlement of the pending immigration question."

This was the general opinion expressed in Tokio today despite denials of the foreign office that his recall was likely. The foreign office is apparently determined to keep Hanihara in Washington until approval or disapproval of the Japanese immigration exclusion bill when it is understood Hanihara will announce he does not desire to remain longer.

Expect Explanation On Phrase of Note

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Japanese government will shortly find an opportunity to assure the United States formally that the term "grave consequences" used in Ambassador Hanihara's letter to Secretary of State Hughes was not intended as a threat, despite the interpretation placed on the phrase by the Senate in passing the Japanese exclusion amendment.

More Notes Needed

Whether this assurance will come in the form of a communication from Tokio or merely by another letter to Mr. Hughes from Ambassador Hanihara was not made clear today, but it was said that further correspondence is necessary to clear up what is described in diplomatic circles as "an unfortunate phrase" resulting in an equally "unfortunate incident."

Secretary of State Hughes, however, will not allow the exclusion amendment to stand without a protest, and it seemed certain today another conflict between the Senate and the State department, the two treaty-making agencies of the government is inevitable.

HIGH SCHOOL INSTRUCTOR STRICKEN

Reject Amendment Retaining Present Immigrant Quotas

WASHINGTON, April 17. The Senate this afternoon rejected an effort by Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York to maintain the present quota limitations—3 per cent of the 1910 census—in the new immigration restriction bill. Copeland's amendment, carrying this provision, was defeated by a vote of 27 to 8.

Straightening out a parliamentary tangle in order to prepare for a final vote fixing the new immigration quota, the Senate then adopted an amendment by Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, making the rate 1 per cent of the 1910 alien population. The vote was 54 to 25.

CONFESSION OF MURDER DOUBTED

Portland Police Perplexed By Stories Concerning Remington's Death

PORTLAND, Ore., April 17.—Was Lawrence Aber, former inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, Cal., the tool—the "fall guy"—for a group of bootleggers who planned the murder of Earl Remington, Los Angeles aviator and club man?

This question perplexed Portland police today as they sought further admissions from Aber—the confessed slayer of Remington.

Detectives endeavored to trace the source of $1,100 in cash which Aber admitted having received from "unknown sources." Remington was murdered February 15, 1923.

More Money Arrives

Shortly afterward in San Francisco Aber received $300 by mail, he told police. The same amount in a plain envelope came to him in Portland later. An additional $500 arrived in San Francisco several weeks afterwards, Aber stated.

A new motor is being rushed from Dutch harbor to replace the defective one in the Seattle. As soon as repairs can be made, Major Martin will fly to Chignik where the other three planes of the globe-circling squadron landed safely late Monday.

NO REPLY NEEDED TO BRITISH NOTE

Department Officials Tell Why Communication Has Been Unanswered

The recent note from Premier Ramsay Macdonald, outlining the British government's attitude toward the Dawes' reparations report, is not considered by state department officials as calling for a reply, it was learned today.

In explaining why the British communication had not been answered, officials fell back on the usual explanation that the United States is not represented on the reparations commission nor officially on the Dawes' committee, and consequently is not a party to the reparations negotiations.

RICH CHURCH WORKER IS EMPLOYED AS COOK, CLAIM

Long Beach Resident, Lost Since April 1, Said to Be In Oakland

OAKLAND, April 17.—Mrs. Etta Brock, 60, a cook at the home of Dr. L. F. Herrick here, and Mrs. Etta Brock, wealthy Long Beach woman, who mysteriously disappeared from Long Beach April 1 and was reported dead in Oakland, are one and the same woman.

"Mrs. Webster," the woman who signed a mysterious telegram sent to Long Beach to inform friends of Mrs. Brock of the supposed death, is Mrs. Brock.

These were announcements today by Captain of Inspectors Richard McSorley, who is convinced that he has solved the mystery that for forty-eight hours has perplexed police in half a dozen California cities.

Proves Strange Case

If the police are right in their deduction, they have revealed the strange transformation of a woman of wealth to a cook and a dual personality unique.

Mrs. Brock, the Herrick cook, when questioned by police today, denied that she is the woman from Long Beach and declared she knew nothing of the reported message. She admitted, however, that she had known a Mrs. Etta Brock in Long Beach.

Handwriting of the cook was compared with the signature of "Mrs. Webster" and the writing tallied with that of the Long Beach property owner, the police say.

Makes Her Will and Then Disappears, Claim.

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Police of the bay cities and Los Angeles today engaged in an investigation to solve the whereabouts of Mrs. Etta Brock, a wealthy Compton property owner and active worker in the Latter Day Saints church, who disappeared from Long Beach shortly after making her will giving her property to persons whose names her attorney refused to reveal.

A telegram from a mysterious "Mrs. Webster" of Oakland, who it is claimed, cannot be found, gave rise to the belief that Mrs. Brock is dead. Yesterday Mrs. L. J. Larson, a close friend of the missing woman, received a telegram from "Mrs. Webster" in Oakland, which read: "Mrs. Etta Brock passed away at 2:30 p. m."

Receives Telegram

Mrs. Larson immediately turned the message over to Roy Lewis, attorney for Mrs. Brock, who asked the local police to request Oakland authorities to hunt for "Mrs. Webster."

Mrs. Brock is declared to have suddenly dropped from sight in Long Beach about April 1. A week later Mrs. Larson claims she received a telegram purporting to be from a Mrs. Brock in Oakland and stating she had been called there by the sickness of a child. The next word heard from Mrs. Brock was the telegram signed "Mrs. Webster" telling of her death.

Birthday Luncheon

One of the week's smartest luncheons was given Wednesday by Mrs. James G. Lyons at her home, 619 North Howard street, in the celebration of the birthday anniversaries of her grandmother, Mrs. Delia Hapgood, and aunt, Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, both of Glendale, whose birthdays occur on the same day, Mrs. Tiffany being born on her mother's twenty-first birthday.

The luncheon table was beautifully decorated with a lavender and gold color scheme. A beautiful arrangement of yellow daisies tied with a gorgeous lavender ribbon bow formed the centerpiece. The guests' places were marked with clever little yellow chicken place cars. Favors and other table appointments were carried out in the lavender and gold tints.

Mrs. Tiffany and her mother have only missed celebrating one birthday anniversary together.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Susie Peck, Mae Dutton, Alma Dutton, the honorees, Mrs. Delia Hapgood and Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, and the hostess, Mrs. James G. Lyons.

GOES BACK HOME, BUCKS SNOWBANK ON FRONT STEPS

E. M. Holman Ready to Return to Glendale; Cold Weather in North

Not long ago E. M. Holman returned to his home at Worcester, Mass., after spending six months with Mrs. Holman in Glendale, during which time he bought the Frank D. Myers property at 332 North Brand boulevard, through J. M. Rhoades, realtor, 106 East Wilson avenue.

Mr. Holman hadn't any more than arrived home when he was tracked through the deep snow to his lair by reporters. The interview appeared in the Worcester Sunday Telegram of April 6 and Mr. Rhoades today received a copy, marked in red pencil by Mr. Holman. It follows:

"Bur-r-r," said E. M. Holman as he made shivery motions Wednesday, "Nobody ought to live in this country except Eskimos."

Mr. and Mrs. Holman have just returned from a six months' visit to Southern California.

"Just think of it," said Mr. Holman. "Since last September I did not see a cloud in the sky until the day I left. And on my first day home I had to shovel snow. It was some shoveling, too."

Mr. Holman lives on the Shrewsbury side of the lake directly opposite Lincoln park. But he only sleeps in Shrewsbury. All his business and social interests are in Worcester.

"That rainy day I speak of was manufactured at that. One of the valley towns in Southern California which had not had rain for a year paid a man $8000 to make rain. He said he would start the rain in four hours. He did. It was raining hard when we left. Several years ago he did the same thing. He made so big a storm that time that they got too much of it. He uses some kind of chemical bombs that are shot into the air and explode at a high altitude."

Mr. Holman who used to visit Florida every winter over a long period of years went to Los Angeles the winter before last. Last fall Mrs. Holman accompanied

PROS AND CONS DRAW 50-50 IN TODAY'S FIGHT

Two Rounds for No Bobs and Same Number for Bobs Evens Matters

The score for the bobs and the un-bobs today is 50-50, the Bobbed Hair Editor of The Glendale Evening News is happy to announce, an equal number of letters having been received pro and con. And say, girls, we sure have started a riot! The farther we get into this question, the more we see in it. It reminds us of Mah Jongg!

Bobbed hair is a good deal like ripe olives, hard to get used to but more or less of a permanent habit, once formed. Witness, for instance, the following tart reply to "M. B. H. H.":

Round One
April 17, 1924.

"Bobbed Hair Editor,
"The Glendale Evening News,
'Glendale, Calif.

"Dear Sir:

"First allow me to say that my hair is bobbed and it will stay bobbed for the rest of my life.

"I am neither an idiot nor a convalescent, as M. B. H. H. said in your column the other evening, for I am quite capable of earning my own living, but my disposition has improved 100 per cent since my hair was cut.

"It seems to me that men do most of the "crabbing" about bobbed hair. I wonder why? Is it possible that as a whole they could be so selfish as to think they have a corner on all the comfort and freedom in the world? I hope not. My husband isn't.

"I think that ten cents' worth of hair pins and a braid of hair that would reach down to the waist would cure that "crabbing" in about five minutes.

"How anybody could quote the Bible in support of such an argument and then call somebody else an idiot, surprises me. Personally, I have too much respect for the greatness of Our Heavenly Father to think that He has nothing else to do than give instructions about how a woman should wear her hair.

"My mother is the best in the world, and home is a regular home for father and us children, but she

Willing to Testify After Shopping Trip

CHICAGO, April 17.—Mrs. Georgia Hamon Rohrer is not defying the Brookhart-Wheeler Senatorial investigating committee, which for ten days has been trying to get her before it at Washington. She is merely buying her spring clothes in order that she may exercise her feminine prerogative of looking her best when she tells what she knows of the political activities of her late husband, Jake Hamon, of Oklahoma.

"Of course I will go to Washington if they want me and take along the private papers of Mr. Hamon which are wanted," she said. "But it is rather annoying to have to go at just this time. It is very close to Easter, you know, and I'm right in the midst of shopping. There are so many things a woman must have when she is going to make so important an appearance. A mere man can jump into one suit, get a shave, brush his hair and present himself before the committee, all ready to tell what he knows. But a woman——"

Her shrug was more expressive than words.

CONNOISSEUR OF ART WILL BUILD RESIDENCE HERE

Baron Imre Sugar to Bring Family From Europe to Live In Glendale

Baron Imre Sugar of the Casa del Oro, exclusive Los Angeles antique and rare jewelry establishment with branches in Hollywood and elsewhere, will build a beautiful Spanish-Moorish type mansion on his large Bellehurst park homesite, on his return from Europe, whence he has gone on his annual buying and pleasure trip, accompanied by Mrs. Weiss and friends, Edwin Frickie and Gene Hill.

Baron Sugar will bring back his wife and daughter, Miss Martha Sugar, from the Sugar ancestral estate just outside Budapest. The baron will also bring back a number of old servants who have been with the family for years. He anticipates that many of his European friends will come to Glendale to make their homes and investments.

Baron Sugar declared before he left that his brother-in-law, Dr. Kahlman of Alhambra, has also bought a beautiful homesite at Bellehurst park and will build a home there following his marriage. The renowned artist, Kesthelyi, an old family friend, will also build at Bellehurst park, having planned an attractive home and studio combined.

Glendale Boosters

The baron and his friends have traveled widely and own holdings in Utah and Oklahoma, as well as Southern California, yet they consider Glendale the most beautiful home city they have ever seen and believe it to be the best and livest city from an investment standpoint as well. They plan to make many additional investments here, upon their return, according to H. Allan Eddins, purchasing agent and financial representative of Baron Imre Sugar.

Baron Sugar noted the rapid growth of Bellehurst park before he left Glendale, being much impressed by the statement of the Walter H. Leimert company, subdividers, that improvements are nearing completion and many homes are being built in the hillslope as well as the lower section of the great tract. He believes that tremendous strides are to be made while he is gone and expects many homes to be there on his return.

SCREEN VERSION TO FOLLOW BOOK

'Babbitt,' by Sinclair Lewis, Now Being Filmed at Warner Studios

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service

Are the movies making plays according to the books from which the plays are taken? The Warner Brothers studio is in the production of "Babbitt," by Sinclair Lewis.

George F. Babbitt will be played by Willard Louis, who made one of the sensational successes of the year as the Prince of Wales in "Beau Brummel."

Mary Alden, who plays the part of Mrs. Babbitt, says, "The drab people in 'Babbitt' have the souls of singing madrigals until the inner life screeches."

It is being directed by Harry Beaumont.

Praise Vamp Type

Marie Prevost, who played the vamp in the production, "The Marriage Circle," wants to know why most of the letters which were showered on her, congratulating her on her performance, came from the domestic type of woman, more than from the "vamp" type themselves.

Percy Marmot, star of "If Winter Comes," started his first film for Universal yesterday. He will play lead opposite Virginia Valli in her new star production. "The Unknown," from the novel "K," by Mary Roberts Rinehart.

Hearst Says He Never Heard of Jake Hamon

NEW YORK, April 17.—William Randolph Hearst has issued a statement with reference to testimony given before the Senate oil committee at Washington by S. H. W. Ballard, of Los Angeles, in which Ballard said Mr. Hearst was one of the three men able to throw some light on his story of the deals by the late Jake Hamon at the 1920 Republican convention. Mr. Hearst's statement follows:

"I know nothing of Mr. Hamon or his political activities. I had never even heard of him until this oil investigation came up and did not even know he had been murdered. I do not know the details of Mr. Harding's nomination but I imagine the influences which secured it were rather more important than Mr. Hamon—in other words, the customary big interests which control the destinies of the Republican party."

Governor Names Aids In Fight on Embargo

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—Governor Richardson has named the following men to go to Washington, D. C., and confer with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in an attempt to secure modification of embargoes against California products resulting from the foot and mouth disease:

C. C. Teague, president California Fruit Growers' Exchange; Fred W. Kiesel, Sacramento banker; Harry M. Creech, Sun-Maid Raisin Growers' Association; Sam Greene, California Dairy Council; A. T. Spencer, California Wool Growers' Association.

Committees were also named by the government to deal with the states individually, as follows: Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, H. A. Jastro, State Board of Agriculture; D. M. Dorman, president Crescent Creamery Co., Los Angeles; C. S. Whitcomb, Fruit Growers' Exchange; R. S. Woglum, Fruit Growers' Exchange.

CHANGE IN STYLE OF PAPER SHOWN IN FIFTY YEARS

Boston Herald of 1871 Lacks Screaming Headlines Of Present Day

That newspapers of fifty years ago were innocent of screaming headlines is evidenced by a copy of The Boston Herald, dated Friday, March 10, 1871, in the possesion of J. E. Barney, realtor, 131 North Brand boulevard. In fact, not one stick of news appears on the front page, which is devoted exclusively to advertisements, largely of the classified variety, including quack doctors, patent medicines and other declasse matter that would scarcely be acceptable in any modern daily.

In size the paper is very similar to The Glendale Evening News, containing eight columns to the page. But that is where comparison ceases. The Herald of that date had just four pages, while an average issue of The News contains eighteen pages.

Ready for Battle

On page 2 of The Boston Herald of Friday, March 10, 1871, appeared the news of the day, in a modest column beginning:

"Paris, March 9.—(World Special)—The National Guards are strongly entrenched with thirty-one guns on the heights of Montmartre, awaiting signal of their leader, to proclaim open revolution in favor of the communes."

In another column a big Washington, D. C., story opens up:

"Washington, March 9.—The most important political event of the day has been the action of the Republican senatorial caucus in ratifying by a vote of 26 to 21 the report of its committee for the displacement of Senator Sumner from chairmanship of the foreign relations committee of the United States senate and nomination of Senator Cameron to succeed him."

Those two items are typical of the way newspapers of that day dealt with the news. Each item was of world importance. Each today would be played up big. A 120-point, eight-column Chelt headline would proclaim either the local or the foreign story, doubtless giving the managing editor a headache to decide which. The stories would be headed up in 72-point, four-column Hancock caps, followed by a four-column, non-break, 30-point upper and lower case italic lead.

In other words, the modern editor would play up such stories to a jazz age. But in those days jazz had not yet upset the world and the reading public was content to peruse the ads, first, then turn the page and quietly plow through several columns of momentous world news in six-point molded type.

No H. C. of L. Then

Some of the ads in The Boston Herald of that date are a revelation. Witness the following:

HAD BAD EYES BUT LANDED IN JAIL

Seaman Tries His Hypnotic Power on Police Judge But Doesn't Work

SAN PEDRO, April 17.—John B. Cashin, a seaman, has been telling people of this port about his hypnotic power.

This salty Svengali was haled before the police judge on a charge of disorderly conduct.

His staring eyes and mystic passes of the hands failed to impress his honor. But Cashin did tell the story of his life, claiming to have been a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted police and a private detective.

After telling of bloody happenings in the harbor district, of which the police knew nothing, of maroonings, scuttlings and plank-walkings, he pointed out his landlady and accused her of hiding slain victims under the chicken coop.

The court finally extricated itself from the maze of sensations and sent Cashin to the General Hospital for investigation in the psychopathic ward.

'Twere much that He had taught my hand to bring Sweet sounds from echoing reed and quivering string,
So my weak songs of praise might swifter rise
To mingle with the heavenly harmonies.

FASTEST GROWING CITY

Glendale has again proved with the irrefutable argument of building permits that "the fastest growing city in America" is no mere slogan but a simple, straightforward statement of fact. For the month of March, just past, this city stood fifth among municipalities of the entire state of California, regardless of location or size, in building permits issued. The first four on the list were Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Long Beach, in the order named. The fifth was Glendale. What more inspiring record than that is it within the power of a city to achieve?

Glendale, with a population of 50,000 people and the certainty of 100,000 people in two or three years, is "all set." The city knows where it is going. With schools, churches, clubs and all modern civic and municipal utilities, including a new $1,600,000 sewer system connecting with the great Los Angeles outfall system; with a population that has grown from 2742 in 1910 to 13,350 in 1920, and now stands at the half-way mark of the hundred thousand level; with a clear vision and a sure faith, backed by the knowledge of superior location, transportation and home life, Glendale is looking in one direction only—straight ahead.

THE DAILY PAPER'S STANDING

As an agency through which the country discovers common interests and gains instruction, diversion and entertainment the Review of Reviews places the daily newspaper ahead of the automobile, the moving picture and the radio.

The daily newspaper has indeed in the last decade or so arisen to an appreciation of its high calling. It is struggling to be sincere, accurate and conscientious as never before, and it is winning the confidence of the people. The daily newspaper that is the tool of private or political interests with news colored accordingly is now the exception and not the rule. Newspaper readers are growing in intelligence and discrimination and papers are accordingly more independent and at the same time more cautious. News is growing in extent and accuracy and advertising is on a high plane of honesty. It is becoming more and more unethical for owners or managers of papers to color news stories according to their own private views.

The public today gives its confidence and support to the newspaper that is independent of political or other patronage and endeavoring to serve the people conscienciously. "You can't believe anything you see in the papers," is no longer true.

MOTION PICTURE THEATRES

Attendance at motion picture theatres is on the gain throughout Southern California, according to Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue; and Glendale theatre managers attest that the same is true of show-houses in this city.

This is as it should be. There is no more healthy and instructive entertainment than that furnished by the cinema, or the moving picture, as it is more commonly called. Glendale picture theatres, moreover, deserve all the patronage they get and more. They are excellently constructed, carry good programs and never offer anything objectionable.

During the month of February, according to returns paid in March, admission tax receipts were $270,659, according to Mr. Goodcell, a gain of over $18,000 over the same month a year ago. This tax paid means that in Southern California during February, film theatres were visited by 14,606,360 persons, who paid in admission charges $3,247,908.

In the aggregate, that is a lot of money. Even the amount paid by patrons of Glendale theatres during February was large. But, for the entertainment and instruction received, the motion picture theatre offers the cheapest and best entertainment in America today.

THE CITY BUILDERS

Men of vision build every city. The extent of their enthusiasm and good judgment is reflected in the city's growth. Cities don't happen. Wide streets, large buildings, factories, good schools, beautiful parks—all are merely ideas at the beginning. Optimism fertilizes the soil. Courage does the cultivating. Advertising and wise counsel bring the crop to maturity. All share in the harvest—financially—even though many stand back when field and harvest hands are needed. But the builders receive something more than dollars—for theirs is a reward which includes the joy of creation. They who build a city look upon that city with different eyes. They are a part of it. They help to lay the corner-stone and erect the flag pole. Nature has done her part for Glendale, and done is well. The foundation is now laid, and a large part of the framework is completed. Workmen—men with vision and dollars—are needed. You can help in a large number of ways. Your dollars will count, and your influence and co-operation will count—whether you are in the mansion class or the humble home owner class. Glendale calls to you. Will you report for duty?

Never hesitate to pay a compliment, if it be sincere. Far better to withhold criticism than compliments. Sincere appreciation may turn the head of a fool, or one who has not traveled far, but it spurs on to greater effort the one who seeks to rise by his own efforts. Just a kindly word, spoken at the right time, may stay the suicide's hand—give hope to the weary one—furnish inspiration to a tiring spirit. Throwing brickbats, at best, is not a pleasant task. Sowing compliments, deserved, is a soul developer and a boon to man.

Even the most selfish man should know this universal law: "He who gives most receives most." Every great man—every great woman—has given much to the world. Not in dollars, perhaps, but in service, talents, genuine love and sympathy, inspiration, smiles and good cheer. They are great because they have opened their purse of talents to the many. The many have called them great—therefore they "are" great.

Your banker isn't always right, but there are many who wish they always had gambled on his words of wisdom. Your banker will tell you Glendale real estate, whether business or residence property, is a good buy at prevailing prices.

Many men would rather fight than eat. But that only goes for missing one or two meals.

The Schoolmaster's Prayer

By DR. FRANK CRANE

My God, first of all, let me learn of Thee, and to teach them under my charge as Thou teachest all Thy creatures.

That is, let me lead them to be just because I am just, wise because I am wise, great because I am great.

And, if their keen eyes see that I do fall short in these qualities, let them also perceive that I recognize my shortcomings, that I pretend not to virtues I do not possess and that I honestly strive to improve.

My God, let me study Thy methods and imitate them.

As Thou dost bring all life to its possible perfection by Growth, so let me duly value the element of time in my pupils and endeavor rather to guide them to maturity than to force them to perfection.

Teach me Thy noble disdain of Force and Thy shrewd indirection; that I may always induce and never resort to the weakness of compulsion.

Let me be a Gardener of Souls and not a mere Merchant of Facts.

Imbue me with Thy patience that I may thoroughly learn the supreme art of teaching, which is to Wait.

Let me see every pupil of mine as a Candle of the Lord and know that my business is to light him.

May I stimulate curiosity and feed it.

Show me how to handle Fear and turn it into Courage, to make the weak will strong, to cure indifference and transform it into ambition, to shame self pity into self confidence.

Give me the love of my pupils, for without love there is no teachableness.

Give me strength and that gentleness which is the garment of strength; and preserve me from weakness, and from petulance and tyranny which are the signs of weakness.

Give me so mature a mind that I shall have a sense of values, that I may distinguish between essentials and nonessentials, and that I may not magnify little things.

Give me a wise blindness to the faults of exuberance and a wise evaluation of enthusiasm.

Make me sympathetic with youth, that I may not criticise as evil what is nothing but immaturity.

Teach me never to resort to the folly of reward and punishment but to recognize that every human being wants to learn, wants to be stfong and wants to be right; and show me how to uncover and to develop these wants.

Let me never forget the profits of my calling, and that the greatest wealth one can gain in this world is the property right he clears in souls.

Invest me with the true dignity of my office, that I may always have a proper pride in knowing that mine is the highest of all callings, and that no man's business is nobler than his whose office it is to guide and mould the unfolding mind.

Keep me humble that I may continue to learn while I teach.

May I strive not so much to be called Master as to be a Master, not to show authority so much as to have authority.

And give me that joy in my work, that exaltation in my privilege and that satisfaction in my service that comes from the knowledge that, of all human occupations, that of teaching is most like the business of God Himself.

PAYING THE BROADCASTER
(From Stockton Independent)

"Who is to pay for broadcasting?" This question has been asked often lately, with no satisfactory answer. So the American Radio association, which is much interested in the matter, offers a prize of $500 for the best solution. Anybody can enter the competition, sending the answers to the association's headquarters in New York City.

This offer should attract a great deal of serious attention to the subject, and may result in a revolution of some sort in broadcasting methods. The financing of broadcasting stations is steadily becoming more difficult, with the public demanding better programs, and performers demanding pay for their services, and the overhead cost mounting.

The radio-telephone, with its millions of nightly listeners, is obviously well adapted to publicity and propaganda effort of many kinds. Yet if that side of the game were overdone, patrons would lose interest.

It seems self-evident that the listeners ought to pay the bulk of the expense, in some form or other; but how can that be done? How can any fees be levied, direct or indirect, that will be fair to everyone and make it impossible for the stingy to dodge their snare of the expense? The broadcasters would like to know that, just as much as the peace propagandists would like to know how to end warfare.

CITIZENS FROM CANADA
(Santa Ana Register)

Canada is greatly disturbed by the loss of its citizens to the United States. It was bad enough when the Dominion found, in its last census, that it had a million less population than it had supposed, because that number had come to this country. The war was thought to have stopped the leakage. Yet recent figures show a greater drain than ever.

In the first nine months of 1923, more than 127,000 Canadians entered the United States and officially registered their intention of remaining here. In the summer months the movement ran from 16,000 to 18,000 a month. The actual volume was considerably greater, for many Canadians come over without formality, by the simple process of rowing across a river or walking across the unwatched border line, and many who came through regular channels remain here without having registered their intention. The movement at present, Canadian observers say, may reach 300,000 a year.

This is a sad loss to Canada, because these emigrants are mostly native-born Canadians of mature years, and therefore a serious economic drain. They are not really replaced by babies or immigrants from the old country. There is an effort being made now to concentrate less on bringing in new citizens from abroad and more on keeping those already in the country.

The United States, while sympathizing with Canada in this loss, cannot feel altogether sad about it. The recruits from that country are the most like Americans of any of our immigrants, the most easily assimilated and perhaps of the highest economic value, since most of them are skilled workmen or farmers. We could bear it cheerfully if some countries farther away were as eager as Canada to keep their people at home.

Little Studies —of— Human Nature

PROPAGANDA

How many times have you heard some one relate an incident and then have a second person tell you the same story but with variations that gave it an entirely different flavor? It is a trait of old Human Nature to twist facts to make a story favorable to himself or to some cause in which he is interested.

Propaganda has always existed but we never became highly proficient in its use until the world war demanded this form of moulding or manipulating public opinion. And now that the war is over we are loath to give up anything so useful.

A magazine writer says the war left us with a devilish skill in wholesale, inspired lying and in hypocritical, pious adroitness in untruth that is one of the highest costs of the war. H. G. Wells in his Outline of History tells how the followers of Gautama, the founder of Buddhism, distorted his simple teachings in order to win converts to this religion. And the historian adds, "Men who would scorn to tell a lie in everyday life will become unscrupulous cheats and liars when they have given themselves up to propaganda work; it is one of the perplexing absurdities of our human nature."

It is indeed one of the worst faults of old Human Nature to say a thing is thus and so just because he wants it to be thus and so, and not because it is so. And it's another bad trait of his to believe any assertion that is made without asking or caring for proof. And so, many an injury is done and many a reputation ruined because old Human Nature is a propaganda fiend and because he is willing and glad to believe the worst.

It is petty, personal jealousy? Just lift the eyebrow and throw out a gentle hint that he or she has done this or that. Old Human Nature will take the hint for gospel truth. Is he a business or political rival? Just make a casual assertion detrimental to him. Some one will be glad to believe it. Are you getting a good salary collecting funds for the Sobbing Spinsters of Sparta? Elaborate upon the horrible condition of these suffering women. No one will ask you to prove it.

This seems a harsh indictment of Human Nature, to accuse him of being a confirmed propagandist and at the same time ready and willing to believe all propaganda. Thank goodness, this is only one side of the old man's nature. He is closely related to us and we should hate to think he is all bad. He has many characteristics and traits that endear him to us and make him one of the most loveable old guys in the world.

A Thought That Came Today

By HARVEY E. WESTGATE of Glendale

THE WISE MAN'S VISION

The Pessimist placed a grain of trouble
Beneath a microscope,
And what he saw was ten times double
With what he had to cope;
For his tongue was furred,
And his sight was blurred,
And everything looked blue,
And lacking vim,
It seemed to him,
That what he saw was true.

The Optimist placed a grain of trouble
Beneath inverted glass,
And far from seeing ten times double
It disappeared, alas;
For he liked to dream,
And he liked to scheme,
And everything looked bright,
And being dense,
And lacking sense,
No trouble was in sight.

The Wise Man held a grain of trouble
Before his naked eye,
He did not see it ten times double
Nor did he pass it by;
For his brain was clear,
And he had no fear,
And he judged it as it was,
For being wise,
He used both eyes,
As every wise man does.

New Railroad For South
Give Automobiles Credit
Glendale Subway Contract
'Baby Bandits' Dangerous

By Gil A. Cowan

Promises of a new transcontinental railroad for Los Angeles are to be seen in the morning's paper. The El Paso & Southwestern proposes to build another link, establish itself with the Santa Fe and "move in."

Certainly Los Angeles and southern California will be glad to hear of additional rail facilities, although a great deal of credit must be given the Southern Pacific, the Union Pacific and the Santa Fe, not to forget the Pacific Electric, for the progress they have made in developing this section.

Little does the public realize what the railroads do for a community. Also, few appreciate what highways and paved boulevards have meant in the last decade.

Glendale actually began to grow when the automobile came into common use. Prior to that Riverside, Santa Barbara and a half dozen other cities were more populous than the crossroads village which was striving for a name.

At any rate the motor cars began spreading out Los Angeles to the suburbs, and Glendale being the closest and most logical residential area for the better class metropolitan district, it was no time at all until the population had doubled, trebled and established a world's record as "the fastest growing city in America."

Automobiles may be given the credit for this transition, for location is a secondary matter to transportation.

Announcement made today that the contract has been let for building the Glendale subway of the Pacific Electric will bring joy to the hearts of Hollywood and San Fernando valley people as well. It will take a year and a half to complete the job, it is estimated, but, when it is done, years upon years of time will be saved by the tunnel eliminating present traffic problems on Sixth and Hill streets.

Glendale property values are certain to be established at a high figure for apartment houses and close-in business property will be in big demand when the tunnel is builded.

While the railroads, representing private ownership, are spending millions in development, the cities of the southland should spend equally as much and more for improving the streets, highways and byways of the vicinity.

Better streets everywhere—Glendale, Pasadena, Alhambra, any place—are vital to the continued prosperity of this favored section. Subdividers should be required to install permanent paving and the municipal departments, or public utilities, should see that these streets are kept in good repair.

Sometimes we wonder at boys and how they come before the courts in such large numbers. Today the writer was talking with one lad held by sheriff's office. He admitted earning more than $30 a week, also he said every dime was spent. And when his salary played out he went out into the streets and robbed people.

This youngster was a convert to the Tia Juana traffic. He wanted his "booze," although not more than 17 or 18 years old. He visited Tia Juana and San Diego, the California border city, as often as three times a week. Little wonder he could not earn enough to keep him from robbery.

But "baby bandits" are a dangerous outfit. And to effect a cure the cause must be eliminated. The clean-up of Tia Juana and Mexicali gambling houses and vice dens will work wonders with their patrons, we foresee.

Ford Salesman Wins Success In Contest

F. K. Lowe, salesman for the Jesse E. Smith Co., Ford dealers, has been advised by W. A. Ryan, general sales manager of the Ford Motor company, that he has retailed more cars and trucks than any other salesman in his division of the Los Angeles branch territory, in the month's contest that closed on March 31.

Mr. Ryan writes to Mr. Lowe, congratulating him warmly on his success in the contest, in which he sold forty-eight cars and two trucks.

One of the greatest problems in the new development of China has been to control the floods which claim many lives there every year.

ASKS COUNCIL TO STOP CIRCULARS

Distribution of Dodgers Is Fire Menace, Property Owner Declares

"Unprogressive advertising and a menace to the city of Glendale," is what W. H. La Fountain of 125 West Acacia street, called the arm full of dodgers, pamphlets and circulars he gathered up from around his nineteen houses on West Acacia and presented to the City Council this morning with the plea that a city ordinance be passed prohibiting promiscuous scattering of such matter around the city.

"Twenty cents' worth of advertising in The Glendale Evening News would be of infinitely more value than $50 worth of circulars like these," said Mr. La Fountain.

"It has gotten to a place where I have to employ a man to do nothing else but watch my houses and gather up such papers, put out for advertising from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale, Eagle Rock, Hollywood, Burbank and other places.

Stopped Elsewhere

"Other cities in the United States have legislated against such a nuisance and it's time Glendale followed their example. It has gotten so that you can't park your car for ten minutes in Glendale without having from one to a dozen bills, dodgers or circulars thrown into it.

"As a house owner in Glendale let me add all this paper is a fire menace and now is the time for Glendale people to get together and see that something is done and that a city ordinance is formulated in doing away with this nuisance."

INDORSE PLAN TO ADVERTISE CITY

Advancement Association to Support Project to Raise $50,000

Members of the Glendale Advancement association, at the regular weekly luncheon held today noon at the Harriett Mae tea room, indorsed the advertising campaign sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and pledged the support of the association to the movement to raise $50,000 for use in boosting the city.

The quarantine regulations on the foot and mouth disease were indorsed by the association, after a brief address by R. W. Brown. The resolution also recommended that all residents of the city follow the regulations closely and co-operate with officials in stamping out the plague.

Flood Control, Need

Dr. L. Gossman and R. B. Griffin, residents of Sycamore canyon, told of the need of flood control in the canyon and suggested several methods. Mr. Griffin advocated an underground drain, surfaced by a road, to care for the wash, with the roadway fixed in such a manner that in times of heavy storms the overflow could be handled in the roadbed.

Dr. Gossman told the members of the association that it would be useless to install any system in the canyon that was not permanent. He told of his experience with flood waters and wash covering a period of twenty years in the canyon.

Residents of Sycamore canyon will come into Glendale as soon as the county has provided flood control in the canyon, Mr. Griffin said. Any talk of annexation hinges on flood control, he said, since the canyon residents feel that to come into the city limits now would mean that the county would not help on flood control.

Hunters Will Receive $100 Panther Bounty

WEAVERVILLE, April 17.—Four panthers, three females and one male, were killed on New river in the western part of the county by John Abbott and George Knowles. They will receive $30 bounty each for the three females and $10 for the male, making $100, which sum will be added to by the sale of the skins.

With their dogs the hunters ran down five panthers, but one made its escape.

CONTINUE PROBE OF TRUNK MURDER

Indictment of Mrs. Willis Expected; Seek to Link Auto With Plot

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—With the indictment of Mrs. Margaret Willis on a charge of murder expected, the county grand jury today resumed its investigation of the "trunk murder" slaying of Dr. Benjamin Baldwin, who Mrs. Willis said she shot to death in defense of her honor.

Meanwhile, the police and district attorney's office continued to weave together strands of evidence which they claim will prove their theory that Mrs. Willis shot the physician to obtain possession of his automobile, which she claims to have bought from him and then mortgaged the following day.

PIONEER PASSES ON

SAN BERNARDINO, April 17. One of the last of the "forty-niners crossed the Great Divide this week. Joseph Brown was born in a covered wagon, entered politics in the Lincoln campaign, founded a bank and owned a newspaper which he edited. His death is cause for yet another tribute to the fearless frontiersmen whose lives were devoted to the winning of the west.

THREE NEW WELLS.

LONG BEACH, April 17.—With three new wells just in that will average 1800 barrels daily, the Signal Hill field is clearly far in the lead of the rest of the oil area. Last month the Long Beach wells led their nearest competitor by over 100,000 barrels. Although the gas still flows freely in the oil investigations, the black gold of Southern California is not affected.

RAISE MILK PRICE

POMONA, April 17.—Showing true co-operation, the housewives of Pomona have accepted without demurring the increase of three cents in the price of milk. This increase was due directly to the hoof and mouth epidemic, and the extra pennies were needed to enforce the regulations necessary to curb the possible spread.

Those who had planned on denying themselves this ball because of Lent must pick out something else.

SUCCESS ON BRINK OF

LOS ANGELES, April 17. — Mrs. Pearl Kinsey, Pasadena matron, was yesterday afternoon granted a divorce from Earl W. Kinsey, who, on the brink of suicide because of failure, went away from home and "made good." His freedom, however, had become precious to him. Mrs. Kinsey told the court and he refused to return to her to resume their former happy marital relations. Several years ago, she recited, she found a suicide note left by her husband. She believed him. Then one day several months ago the door opened and Kinsey walked in. He was rich. But he stopped less than twenty-four hours. She has not seen him since.

DISEASE SHORT-LIVED

LONG BEACH, April 17.—R. Hoefer, guest at the Hotel Virginia, is an apostle of the curative powers of nature, particularly as applied to the hoof and mouth disease. He runs cattle on 500,000 acres in the Argentine and is reputed to be the world's largest brewer. He says that, judging from twenty years' experience with cattle, the disease does not last more than a month and a half and that infected cows, if qarantined, will regain their health at the end of that time. If this dictum can be applied in Southern California it will be the means of saving an incalculable amount of money to stock raisers.

TRACTS BOOM TRADE

SAN BERNARDINO, April 17. —Business men here are greatly elated over the opening of the new mountain tracts about Big Bear and Arrowhead Lake, as much of the supplies and building materials will be drawn from this city. With the natural beauty of the lake country and the energy displayed by the men responsible for the new vacation centres, it is prophesied that Switzerland will feel a serious competition soon.

Holman Praises Glendale Climate After Landing In Frozen North

him and they liked the country so well that they intend to return there next fall and make their home in Glendale, seven miles from Los Angeles, where Mr. Holman has leased an estate on which he intends to build an apartment house costing close to $100,000.

Mr. Holman has bought a residence into which he will move when he leaves the east next fall.

Although he went there solely on a pleasure visit he consummated a number of real estate deals, and then made plans for the erection of an apartment block.

Trips to Tia Juana

He found time for pleasure. On a number of occasions he went across the Mexican border into Tia Juana where Jim Coffroth was recently reported to have planned a fight between Dempsey and Wills.

"That's a great place," said Mr. Holman. "There are more girls there than anywhere I ever saw. They're out to meet you when you cross the line. Even though you may have your wife with you, you will have to be on your guard. They're liable to take you away from her.

"I doubt if there will be any fight there. They have recently made a law that nobody can leave the country to cross into the United States after 8 o'clock at night. If you don't get out before that hour you will have to wait until next day."

Mr. Holman said he met a large number of people from Worcester and vicinity during his stay there. Some were just visiting but others have been there for some years and some of them are engaged in business.

One thing that impressed him was the cost of living as compared with the East. To show the difference he took a small card from his pocket which contained the bill of fare in a large cafeteria in Los Angeles.

"It's large enough to cover the entire first floor of the State Mutual building," said Mr. Holman. "And it is not an exception. There are scores of places where the same prices prevail.

Why I Am In Glendale

I came to Glendale after traveling 3000 miles to hunt that climate I was told so much about. While coming down Los Feliz hill from Hollywood I said: "This is the Switzerland of America," with Verdugo hills a background for the world-famous play, Oberammergau so beautiful!

After living here three months, and as we were driving in from Santa Monica Beach, I saw Hill 57. I said: "I am like Heinz pickles—I, too, have 57 reasons for liking California."

When motoring down Ivanhoe hills, entering Glendale on the south, I inhaled that atmosphere. Traveling around here, I felt that spiritual uplifting thought of culture, refinement and unspeakable peace, words do not express.

I left the east because of long cold winters, storms the year round, and unbearable heat at night in summer. We motored from Illinois, camped five weeks on the road, cooked every meal on trip but two.

Plan Advisory Board To Aid In Plague War

EL CENTRO, April 17.—An advisory board of seven from all parts of the Imperial valley will be appointed by the federal, state and county authorities to meet daily and advise regulations to check the spread of the foot and mouth disease into the ranges of southeastern California.

All persons, cars and baggage coming into the valley will be disinfected at the discretion of the enforcement offices. There is no sign as yet of the plague in the valley and these protective measures will be taken to keep the cattle clear of it.

Barrel Alcohol Taken From Warehouse

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Rum burglars broke into the Dorado Club Beverage company's offices, 2416 East Eighth street, and rolled a full barrel of alcohol onto a truck and escaped. The alcohol was used in the preparation of a syrup for soft drinks. The arrival of night-watchman J. L. Golem, who called city Detective Rosselli to investigate prevented the loss of a second load of ginger ale which the thieves had prepared.

Valley Residents to Discuss Conservation

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—The San Gabriel Valley associated Chambers of Commerce will meet at the Broadway Department store cafe next Monday noon. The proposition to be discussed will be water conservation. It has been endorsed by several Chambers of Commerce, but the San Gabriel group was the first to further this program.

HAIR FIGHT ENDS 50-50 FOR TODAY

likes my bobbed hair and so does my father.

"Pardon the fireworks, but my good disposition removes itself when people attack bobbed hair.

"Yours respectfully,
"J. E. G."

Round Two

In decided contrast to the above is the following letter from "Jane," upholding the ancient virtues and yet full of a modern note of liberality that will make even the bobs feel a little tenderhearted toward this really splendid type of American woman who writes:

"I am thirty, and one of the 'few' who refuses to bob. I do not object to bobbed hair. I think it very becoming to girls in the 'teens and even to some in the twenties. But I do object to the reputation that bobbed hair has. It is typical of the irresponsible, jazz craze. And I do object to what was the 'start' of this fad, for, according to the Ladies Home Journal, it was The Follies!

"I am not one of those who think this younger generation is all wrong. There may be much to criticize, but, judging from the lack of respect or interest they show for advice given by older girls—sisters, friends or mothers—they see much to criticise in us.

"I would not go back to old-fashioned ways—there is much that we can let go. The drudgery of their housekeeping, for example. But, with the conveniences of modern housekeeping, giving the home-maker time to enjoy her music, books and needlework, I would have the womanhood of today press forward toward a higher ideal.

"Someone has said, 'No nation can be greater than its women,' God bless our women, then, of yesterday! And it is a challenge to us today, for while there is much that we can let go, there is much that would be well worth our while to remember.

"Did they have higher and truer ideals? Did the men have more respect for womanhood then, than now? Was everyone more gracious? Or does grandmother just like to say, 'It was never like this in my day?'

"God bless the youth of today! They may refuse to take advice but the ones whom I have had the privilege of seeing in a close-up view have measured up to the ones of my own school days and, I am sure, could be favorably compared with those of my mother's and my grandmother's school days.

"But what of the girl in the thirties or forties? That time in her life when a woman should be her loveliest. Beautiful to look upon, because then she is the 'motherhood' of our land! Beautiful because of her efficient managing of that highest and best of all institutions—the American home!

"Beautiful, because where mother is things always go right! Not only beautiful to look upon, but beautiful in character. And character shows in her face when she is "thirty to forty." Oh, why this pitiful cry to look sixteen when she is thirty? Is it to hold her husband?

"God pity the woman who thinks the way to hold a man's love is to let down the standard of a dignified American womanhood, try to look sixteen and all that goes with it!

"You and I know scores of girls who bobbed simply because it is the fad, or 'so my hair will come in thicker.' They do not conscientiously let down the standard but they appear to, so now they are the ones who should do their utmost to place the standard back where it was before they bobbed.

"JANE."

Round Three

And now a barber joins the fray! Signing himself "A. P. A. W.," he refutes "A. M. A. W." as follows:

"I thought I would not get mixed up in this controversy over bobbed hair but 'A. M. A. W.' has hit a lick at the barber and his shop, therefore she has hit me also. She says she was never in a barber shop and never intends to go into one.

"Now a great many ladies come to my barber shop because they would rather have a man do it who understands cutting hair, because that's his business, rather than have a sixteen year old girl practicing on them, as girls don't usually get any older than that in beauty parlors.

"I have been cutting ladies' hair for more than twenty-five years, (how much more it is needless to say!) and curling it too. I am now thinking of having someone who can marcel as well as cut ladies' hair. I believe the barber shop of today is just as much for the ladies as for the men and we cater to them.

"So much for A. M. A. W.

"A. P. A. W."

Round Four

Bet not all bobs remain bobs, according to "I've Seen A Lot," who narrates her experiences as follows:

"April 17, 1924.

"To the Bobbed Hair Editor,
"The Glendale Evening News.
"Dear Sir:

"Well, I just couldn't keep back any longer. Honest Injun, this bobbed hair problem has a kick. Say, I can appreciate Mr. Watt's views on the subject, having worn bobbed hair once myself, doncha know.

"But, thank heavens! No more for me. It's all grown in and I wouldn't want to go through all the bother again on a bet. I would hate to think of my grandmother with bobbed hair. Can you imagine yours holding you on her knee, with a lot of flapper ideas? Well, that is just what the world is coming to. Bobbed haired grandmas. Oh, me! Oh, my!

"Women of today think more of their looks and their hair than of making a home and rearing children. They don't stop to think of how they can be a help to their husbands. It's just, 'Oh, I'm going to have my hair trimmed tomorrow. I have found the finest barber shop.' And oh, a lot of other things that become a part of their daily lives.

"I have gone into some of the homes of these bobbed haired flappers and, honestly, I believe that before they think of how they look with their hair cut this way, and if their lips have enough warpaint, etc., they would first stop and see if their homes were kept clean and if hubby had clean socks, and if the baby's face was washed they would be more attractive, and more what we are loking for than they are.

"Yes, I will admit that A. M. A. W. is trying to put it on for the boys, but I think she is overdoing it, don't you know. She just talks for herself, and her experience is only one of many. Why everything acts differently on each and everyone of us. It's just like eating pickles and ice cream. Might make her deathly sick and then wouldn't even faze some one else.

"As far as that goes I, too, talk from experience but, gee, that's nothing. I'm glad my grandmother was the dear and sweet old lady she is, and not the bobbed haired flapper kind the women of today are, who are going to be grandmas of tomorrow.

"Yours Truly,
"I've seen a lot.

"P. S. This may sound old-fashioned but then, after all, that's the best kind of a girl in the long run, don't you think so? No, I don't mean being too extreme, but just a good clean-thinking American girl."

Says Wells Stealing Oil Under His Land

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Because he believes other wells at Signal Hill are draining the pool of oil he hopes is below property he has leased, suit was filed here by A. R. Renshaw, Long Beach, against D. D. Huddleston and others for $10,000 per month damages. He claims they have failed to properly complete a well on his land.

Aged Resident Is Hurt In Crossing Accident

EL MONTE, April 17.—Tom Eastland, aged 66, and a well known resident of this community, was struck by a Santa Fe train and his motor car demolished. He was removed to the General hospital in Los Angeles with a spinal fracture and possible skull fracture. He is not expected to live.

CHANGE IN STYLE OF PAPER SHOWN

Jazz Headlines of Present Day Missing In Sheet Of 50 Years Ago

(ontinued from page 3)

"Ten collars and a necktie, 20 cents." And this one: "Best grades of coal, $10 a ton." And this: "Fine suits, $15." And this: "Good room and board, $4 a week."

And, realtors of Glendale, glimpse this:

"$100 down will buy a nice cottage house in Jamaica Plain, balance same as rent."

Another real estate ad:

"Twenty acres, fourteen miles from Boston, $1500, only $400 down."

Those places are probably worth up into the hundreds of thousands today. But look at this:

Police Scandal

"NOTICE: Subscriber will thank any person who knows the particulars in relation to the bribery of the state police."

The circulation of The Boston Herald at that time was 80,650, a very fair figure but nothing compared with the same paper today, which is regarded as one of the best papers in Boston.

It often causes 1924 editors sleepless night, trying to figure out why it is their sheets will cause mild ripples of amusement among readers of 1970.

Foch Confirms Noted Statement of Country

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—The expression attributed to Marshal Ferdinand Foch in comparing Southern California to the Riviera of France is not tourist propaganda originating in this city, according to H. Desmidt of Paris, who told a gathering of railroad and steamship men of an interview with the French war hero in which he confirmed a recently published report containing this sentiment. Told that some doubt had been expressed of the sentiment originating with him Marshal Foch said, "I repeat that Southern California is a great deal like our Riviera, only finer and more important," Mr. Desmidt is touring the country with foreign representatives of the Southern Pacific.

Washington authorities refused a request that a memorial tree be planted on Sixteenth street for Nikolai Lenin.

Trains Tell the Story

THROUGH burning heat of the prairie or alkali dust of the desert, up into summit snows; then down into the warm valley and along the coast rush the Western trains. In the regulated temperature of the cars, passengers marvel over the changing scenes, but never think of the extreme test to which these rapid changes of temperature subject the brightly varnished coaches in which they ride.

In 1886 HUETER'S Superior Varnishes were used by the Central and Southern Pacific Companies on the finest trains of that day. There have been radical improvements in railway equipment since the eighties, but HUETER'S Varnishes—substantially the same—are still used by these companies, as well as by the Pullman Company. Varnishes that stood the gruelling test on trains creeping across the desert and over the Divide in 1886, needed no improvement to endure unharmed the same journey by Limited schedule in 1924.

HUETER'S Varnishes are being used by the Pacific Electric; Los Angeles Railway; San Francisco, Sacramento Short Line; Oakland Traction Company; San Francisco Market Street Railway; the Key Route System, Oakland, and other important electric lines. They have also been used for years on the largest civic and commercial buildings in the west.

These "superior" varnishes meet the needs of the individual user as faithfully as they have served the railroads. Their use assures protection for your automobile or the floors, woodwork and furniture in your home.

PHYSICIAN TAKES FRESH ANGLE IN BOOK ON HEALTH

Dr. F. M. Rossiter's Treatise Proves Innovation In Medical Studies

Frederick M. Rossiter, B. S., M. D., of 130 North Belmont street, with offices at 203 West Broadway, has received from George Sully & Co., of New York, his publishers, copies of his new book, "The Romance of a Living Temple," just off the press.

This is the second book by Dr. Rossiter, his first, which was published several years ago and went into editions in many languages, being the now standard "Practical Guide to Health."

The present volume is really an innovation in physiological treatises of a popular character. By considering the body as the temple in which we live, the author has projected upon the screen of consciousness a realization of its beauty and nobility. The result is a book no one can read without feeling as never before the sanctity of his own "temple."

Expounds Health

The organs of the body are explained from a new vantage point, and their functions expounded from a health preservation angle. With extraordinary vigor for this sort of volume, Dr. Rossiter has traced the effect of thought and action in character building.

Not only will libraries find "The Romance of a Living Temple" a most valuable addition to their children's rooms, owing to its utter purity, but churches and Sunday schools will desire the book because of its insistence that the body is the master work of the Sublime Architect; and the general reader will find in the treatise an account of what the human body is and why, with none of the dryness and pedantry of the old books on physiology, while it is none too soon to predict that every library in the United States will carry the book on its general shelves as well as in the juvenile department, and it will become a supplementary reader in public school courses.

The author, prominent as a Glendale physician, is to be congratulated for his triumphs in the field of letters.

LAUD LEGION AS FORCE FOR GOOD

State Commander Presents Charter to Post 288 In Verdugo Hills

In presenting the charter to the Verdugo Hills post No. 288 of the American Legion at the "First Annual Mess Call" held last night at the La Crescenta school, James F. Collins, state commander of the Legion, in the main address of the evening, held that the Legionnaires individually and collectively were among the greatest forces for good in the United States today. He spoke on "The American Legion."

Following the banquet, at which two hundred were seated, Mr. Collins and Eugene J. Wix, district commander of Glendale, gave addresses. Others on the program were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard, of Glendale, Jim Foley of Pasadena, and Joseph A. Wilson, commander of Glendale Post No. 127.

Has Forty Members

After the program the rest of the evening was spent in dancing until a late hour. Commander E. L. Sullivan of Verdugo Hills presided very capably.

Although organized only a short time ago, the new post is in a flourishing condition, with about forty charter members. Plans are already being laid for a clubhouse. At present the post meets in the Sparr Heights community building.

Ask Cops to Donate Parking Fee for Car

SACRAMENTO April 17.—When Chief of Police Barney McShane and Inspector Arthur Ryan drove out to Moreing park baseball grounds they were halted by two men and directed to park their car on the public street. A fee of 50 cents was asked. The officers made themselves known and arrested the two men. Dozens of car owners had paid the "fee," it was found.

Whether a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses will stand legal test is a question with the officers. City Attorney Harris, when asked fo an opinion, replied they were at least guilty of "good salesmanship."

COUNCIL ORDERS TEN LIGHTS FOR STREET CORNERS

Beacons at Intersections of Important Highways to Flash Signals

By unanimous vote, the City Council this morning entered into an agreement with the Pacific Highway Light House Corporation of Los Angeles for the installation of ten beacon lights on important intersections of the city. The contract runs for three years, and each light costs tthe city but $30 per year, which includes installation, upkeep and repair.

The light on the beacon is intermittently flashed, and the nature of the warning on the standards and the location of the lights are left to the discretion of V. B. Stone, city manager, and Chief of Police Fraser. Acetylene gas is used in the lights, which insures their operation in wet weather as well as dry. The standards are erected on a concrete base over two feet in height. There is a small space on each side for the name of the firm supplying the standard.

On the cement base the city will have the right to print arrows for direction, with mileage to the cities and points adjacent to Glendale.

Postpone Hearing

Pending a further report from the City Planning Commission relative to the advisability of widening West Broadway from Central avenue to San Fernando road at one time, the Council postponed for two weeks the scheduled hearing on the widening of that street from Central to Pacific. An effort is being made to have all the work done at one time, and final action on the petition now before the council will be delayed until the residents between from Pacific to San Fernando road are heard from, or until they turn the project down.

Wayne Alles, representative of the Foster & Kleiser Advertising agency, addressed the council and presented a petition asking that the license for outdoor advertising be reduced to a figure that was not prohibitive. He stated that his firm was ready, if the council took the desired action, to place four large illuminated signs on as many arteries leading into the city, which would advertise the merits of the city. The council referred the matter to committee of the whole, and no action was taken this morning. Foster & Kleiser suggested that a committee be appointed which would have the authority to pass on all applications for outdoor advertising. Mr. Alles stated that Glendale was the only city in California which practically prohibited outdoor advertising.

Thank Councilmen

A letter signed by Mrs. Minnie Breckenridge, Mrs. R. A. Ladd, Mrs. A. C. Burrell, Mrs. J. F. Johannsen and Mrs. Edward F. Pomeroy thanking the council for the quick action taken in clearing the Sycamore Canyon wash north of Colorado was read and filed.

No protests being received against the installation of ornamental lights on Glendale avenue from San Fernando road to Monterey road, and on Broadway from Everett street east, this work was ordered in.

The council received petitions asking for the improvement of Tyler street, Bonnie Brae and adjacent streets, and Gilbert street from Pacific to Kenilworth. In each case the city attorney was instructed to draft the necessary proceedings.

The ordinance providing for a full-time city health officer and assistants as offered last week was adopted unanimously. The salary of the health officer will be $400 per month. No appointment to this position has been made.

Fat and Fog Are Held As Perils to Health

LONDON, April 17. — It's healthy to be a little stout up to the age of 60, but after 60 it's safer to be thin, according to Dr. E. L. Ash.

SELECT LEADERS FOR CITY DRIVE

Intensive Campaign Will Be Conducted to Get Advertising Fund

Ogden states, and continue it Wednesday and Thursday, thus concentrating the whole campaign in an intensive three-day drive to produce the balance of the $50,000 needed to advertise Glendale to the world as "the fastest growing city in America" and maintain its marvelous record of growth and prosperity.

Three hours a day will be devoted to solicitation during the drive days of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. Ogden states, the object being to accomplish the objective with as little lost time as possible to busy Glendale merchants.

Meeting Tomorrow

There will be a meeting tomorrow noon of the majors and captains, when Mr. Ogden will outline with them the details of the drive and prepare everything necessary for a strong, sure footed start. The meeting will be held at the "Alley Inn" in the rear of the new offices of the Charles B. Guthrie company, 214 South Brand boulevard.

For his services in directing the drive, P. B. Ogden will receive a straight service fee of $500 for ten days, starting Tuesday, April 15, which is at the rate of $50 a day. This salary will be taken care of through an agreement with certain subscribers that their pledges go to compensate Mr. Ogden for directing the drive, according to C. W. Ingiedue, one of the Chamber of Commerce directors.

All For Advertising

The $50,000 raised by the drive is to be used entirely for advertising Glendale and will be in charge of a specially appointed board of control, as announced in The Glendale Evening News of Tuesday, April 15. In the same issue it was announced that $16,075 of the required $50,000 had already been pledged, and the list of subscribers was published.

It is believed by P. B. Ogden that the property owners and business men of Glendale will get behind this drive and eagerly subscribe the balance of the $50,000 which has been set as the goal, determined not to let Glendale lose this golden opportunity to boost its population to 100,000 and bring vastly increased values and added prosperity to every section of the city.

EDUCATOR TALKS AT ROTARY MEET

Emerson, America's Greatest Intellectual, Declares University Head

"Education for Citizenship" was the subject of an address by Professor Ernest Wood of India, before today's Notary club luncheon at the Egyptian Village, 133 North Brand boulevard, in which he declared that America's greatest intellectual leader was Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Professor Wood, who is president of one of the colleges of the University of Bombay and author of the standard text-book on civics used in that country, is now on a lecture tour of the United States.

"We must appeal to the children through their emotions," he declared. "It is necessary to encourage sensitiveness in the young. We should not teach them to fear life. Good citizens cannot be made that way."

Outlining his work in India, Professor Wood stressed the value of individuality, both in persons and nations. "Just as we respect another man who has distinguished himself in a different field, so should we respect nations that have developed along lines other than those of our own."

President George B. Karr of the Glendale Rotary club, appointed a major in the $50,000 Chamber of Commerce advertising fund drive, named his ten captains as follows: Herbert J. Smith, Edward Jones, Preston L. Hatch, Paul Stillman, Clarence Kaighen, C. C. Cooper, J. I. Wernette, Roy L. Kent, Clarence Redmond and H. S. Webb.

Arthur H. Dibbern, chairman of the boys' work committee, named his May 2 "Boys' Parade" committee as follows: Richardson D. White, William Hunter, David Black and George U. Moyse. The committee on prizes was named as J. I. Wernette and Daniel Kelly, Jr.

SHIPPING BOARD QUIZ IS STARTED

Investigation of Foreign Activities Under Way By House Body

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The foundation for a sweeping investigation of the United States shipping board's foreign activities in connection with operation of ships was laid today by the House naval investigating committee in its searching inquiries of Huntington T. Morse, the board's European director.

Representative Davis, Democrat of Tennessee, questioned Morse about matters running back to foreign control of shipping board ships from London by Captain Tobey, naval aide to Admiral Sims when the latter was in charge of American warships in European waters. Davis has much data concerning discriminations against American merchant ships even during war time and evidence of extortionate charges which Morse admitted was "robbery."

AUTOMOBILE SECTION

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1924

PROSPERITY SHOWN IN DETROIT

Sales and Registrations Are Hitting New Records In First Quarter

DETROIT, April 17.—Retail business along Detroit's automobile row reflects the general prosperity of the industry. March registrations smashed all records with a total of 8368 automobiles sold in Detroit during the month.

Sales in motortown for the first quarter of the year also hit a new high mark, with a total of 18,847 cars, as opposed to 13,875 for the corresponding period of last year, an increase of 33 per cent over the best winter business automobile dealers here have ever seen.

Further proof of the retail activity in Detroit is the fact that although production during the first quarter of the year was 19 per cent greater than that of the same quarter of the preceding year, sales in this territory jumped 33 per cent. Total output for the first quarter was 1,040,755, which is the largest output on record for this period of the year.

In addition to the 8368 new cars, approximately 6000 used cars found new owners during the month, bringing the total sales of automobiles in Detroit for the month up to more than 14,000.

Simple Rules Given For Saving Clutch

It is a good plan to stop about eight feet in back of the car ahead when traffic halts, and when almost ready to start, allow the car to begin creeping in low, and then switch to second as the line starts moving. This is much better and saves the clutch, rather than making a habit of starting off in second.

California, Ohio Lead in Sales of Used Automobiles

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—California and Ohio led all states in the total sales of used automobiles in the first three months of 1924, says the National Automobile Dealers' Association in bulletins which were put into circulation here today. California and Ohio also reported the lowest percentage of dealers who had not made any sales in the same period.

In Wisconsin, 39.4 per cent of the dealers reporting on used car stocks also reported that they had not made any sales of used cars in the first quarter. In Kentucky, 39.2 per cent of the dealers reported they had not sold any used cars.

Shift Gears on Hill And Save Your Engine

When an automobile is permitted to labor while going up a steep hill, the sudden blows of the explosion, acting against the resistance of the slow-moving crankshaft, tend to flatten out the bearings, shortening their life, wearing them out and making the engine knock long before it should under proper use. Do not crowd the engine to see if it can possibly make the top of the hill without shifting gears.

Traffic in London Is Slowest in Universe

Street traffic in London is said to be the slowest in the world, with an average speed of from four to five miles an hour. When congestion is most acute, traffic moves at the rate of only three miles an hour.

Avoid Dirt Roads in Rainy Season, Advice

Motorists should avoid dirt roads as much as possible at this time of the year. While at certain seasons the dirt roads may be negotiated in safety, at this time an automobile is liable to get mired, which necessitates a towing job.

NEW SERVICE IS AID TO AUTOISTS

Automobile Club Furnishes Vacation Data for Motor Tourists

Vacation trips in 1924 can be made the most pleasurable in history if recreation seekers will take advantage of the new service that is offered by the outing bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, according to announcement yesterday. Those who feel the thrill preceding the call of the open road in the springtime will have available a complete compilation of hunting and fishing trips, hiking jaunts, camping spots, scenic grandeur and all that tends to make life joyous in the open. This represents more than a year's work by an expert staff at the auto club, assisted by the forest rangers in Califronia's seventeen national reserves.

The mass of data was prepared under the direction of C. B. Salisbury, who has personally covered every trail of the great outdoors in the state. Eighteen separate maps have been prepared, showing roads, camping spots, fishing and hunting reserves and scenic beauties. The stupendousness of the task may be gathered from the fact that 100 men worked nearly a year to complete the largest of these maps, which is of east central California, embracing the High Sierra territory.

Wealth of Data

In the collection are fourteen special bulletins giving detailed information of towns, resorts, campgrounds, streams, supply stations and other data necessary to the motor tourist invading the national domain in search of recreation. There is also a booklet listing Pacific highway auto camps from the southern boundary of California into Canada.

All of the information contained in these publications is authentic. This special service to members also will be extended to visiting motorists in Southern California so that there is every indication that recreation seekers of this section will enjoy a banner year.

3 OUT OF 4 LOST CARS FOUND

Figures on Auto Thefts Are Compiled Over Period Of Six Years

More than 200,000 automobiles were stolen in twenty-eight key cities of the United States in six years, of which nearly 25 per cent have not been recovered. This is shown in a table of figures on thefts and recoveries made public by the National Dealers' Association.

The cars stolen in 1923 totaled 39,162. Of this number 7228 were unrecovered January 1. The percentage of unrecovered stolen cars in the 28 index cities for 1923 was 18 per cent, the lowest recorded since the records have been kept.

203,499 Cars Stolen

Thefts in the index cities totaled 203,499 cars in the six years. The recoveries totaled 153,827 cars. The total of cars unrecovered is 49,677.

Three quick recoveries of stolen automobiles that were well on thei way east last week handed a jolt of knockout proportions to auto thieves. Not only were the cars recovered, but the thieves jailed and the news caused consternation in the underworld, as it developed that new methods being employed by the theft bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California and the authorities generally are proving effective.

Get Them Here

A high average of recoveries has been established here so far this year through the co-operation of the city, county and state authorities with the automobile club detectives, and the peace officials of adjoining states. During the first three months of 1924 there were 1483 cars stolen, of which 956 were recovered, or approximately two-thirds. It is believed that this average is considerably higher than that the country over.

Championship Points For First Race Meet

The 1924 A. A. A. championship scoreboard for the first inning reads:

| 3 | Hartz, Durant | 140 |
| 4 | Hill, Miller | 80 |
| 5 | Milton, Miller | 50 |
| 6 | Hearne, Durant | 35 |
| 7 | Murphy, Miller | 25 |
| 8 | Cooper, H. C. S. | 15 |
| 9 | Boyer, Duesenberg | 10 |

The money winnings are: Fengler, $9000; Wonderlich, $4500; Hartz, $2500; Hill, $1750; Milton, $1250; Hearne, $1000; Murphy, $800; Cooper, $700; Boyer, $500; Durant, $500. Five others divided $2500 in guarantees equally.

Use Wrench to Take Off Terminal Nuts

Pliers should not be used on the lead heads of the terminal nuts of the battery; use a wrench. Pliers only result in a "chewing-up" of the nut, which, besides being unsightly, makes it harder to remove. A wrench will cause a tighter fit between the taper plug and the terminal.

Autoists Can Aid In Halting Cattle Disease In State

Motorists may be of valuable service to county and state authorities in checking the foot and mouth disease among cattle, and are urged to do their bit, in an announcement by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It has been definitely determined that the disease easily is spread among herds of valuable cattle through carrying infected soil. Hence, the warning to all motorists to observe every quarantine regulation to the letter of the law, as their tires and shoes will carry germs unless precautions are taken.

Co-operation on the part of every person is needed to successfully eliminate the malady. While there is no danger to human being, it spreads rapidly among cattle and may be carriel from one district to another by pleasure seekers, campers, flower pickers, mushroom hunters, and dogs taken out by picnic parties.

Gruelling Test For Essex

Battles desert and mountain roads in 1674 mile run under the eye of Uncle Sam's postal officials in emergency service trial lasting close to three days. The car's economy and stamina surprised everyone who watched the performance.

—Courtesy The Los Angeles Herald.

Without a stop except for gasoline and sandwiches Charles Goldtrap and Al Lewenthaul, acting as deputy postman for Uncle Sam's postal service in Arizona, stuck to their job continuously for two days, fifteen hours and ten minutes, driving 1674 miles over some of the toughest roads, steepest grades and deepest mud holes in the Southwest.

The stamina displayed by these young men was shared by their sturdy automobile, an Essex Six touring car, which, in the face of almost unsurmountable conditions, survived this gruelling test and came back to Phoenix with a record few, if any, cars have ever made in America.

Twenty-three miles per gallon of gasoline, 3,348 miles per gallon of oil and an average of twenty-six and one-half miles an hour during the total elapsed time was the official record piled up by Uncle Sam's choice of cars, in testing out this emergency service over a route covering the principal cities of Arizona and to nearby cities beyond the border in New Mexico and California.

At the conclusion of the run, Postmaster Michelson of Phoenix complimented the Harold L. Arnold, Hudson-Essex Branch in Phoenix, saying in substance that the accurate reports of postal deliveries and extremely low cost of making such a long strenuous journey emphasized the reliability of motor car delivery of United States mail for emergency service when other methods of delivery might fail.

The Essex was a stock car with no special equipment or tuning up for the trip. The load was equivalent to five average persons and the results in gasoline, oil and expense justified the Essex Six claim that this latest product of the Hudson factory fully equalled the former similar records held by the Essex "four" which was established by four years of popularity as one of the most economical and dependable cars in America.

Some idea of the distance covered may be gained from the fact that, had the car started from Los Angeles over the Midland Trail, it would have reached a point in Nebraska only 153 miles from Omaha in the same two days and fifteen hours.

Kelley Motor Co., 816 South Brand boulevard, are Hudson and Essex dealers here.

Close Inspection of Steering Gear Helps

Go over the steering gear occasionally to see if any part is coming loose. If this mechanism fails there is usually a serious accident. If all parts are tight, put oil or grease wherever necessary, and then see if there is any lost motion in the steering wheel. If there is an inch or so, it should be taken out. Details differ with different designs, but they all have the same means of adjustment. Have this attended to at the service station.

Gasoline Strainers May Clog Feed Line

Remove the strainer in the gasoline line at least once a month and clean out all foreign matter that has lodged there. The strainer is found where the feed pipe enters the vacuum tank, and sometimes another one where the gasoline enters the carburtor.

Collodion in Alcohol Prevents Tarnishing

To prevent the silvering of lamp reflectors tarnishing when not in use it is advisable to give the surface a light coating of alcohol in which collodion has been dissolved.

SIX MONTHS LEEWAY TO VISITORS

Non-Resident Autoists Must Pay License Fee at End of That Time

SACRAMENTO, April 17. California's motor vehicle law permits non-resident motorists to remain longer without obtaining a new license than any other state in the Union, except Illinois. The division of motor vehicles so announced following an examination of the laws of all the states governing non-resident motorists.

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—California's motor vehicle law permits non-resident motorists to remain longer without obtaining a new license than any other state in the union, except Illinois. The Division of Motor Vehicles so announced today following an examination of the laws of all the states governing non-resident motorists.

Out-of-State motorists may operate their cars on the public highways of California for six months without obtaining a California license, it was stated the only requirement being that the visitor obtain a non-resident permit. Illinois was found to be the only other state allowing a period of equal liberality the average being from thirty to ninety days. In New Jersey and Connecticut it was learned, visiting motorists must secure a license within fifteen days after entering the state.

States Reciprocate

Division officials said the laws of eighteen states provided a "reciprocal" arrangement whereby a visiting motorist was permitted to remain without registering his car for the same length of time granted by the state from whence he came. Thus California motorists visiting in such states could remain six months without obtaining a license while motorists from New Jersey and Connecticut would be compelled to pay the fee within fifteen days.

The liberality of California is strikingly evidenced by the fact that during 1923 more than 200,000 out-of-state motorists visited the state. Will H. Marsh, chief of the division, declared.

Increases Are Shown In Auto Production

From 1895 to 1923, American manufacturers produced more than 16,000,000 motor vehicles. Of these, 80 per cent were produced in the last seven years, 60 per cent in the last five years, and 16 per cent last year.

SPELLING BEE IS OVERLAND'S PLAN

Prize of Car Is Offered to Winner in Contest Now Going On

'Member way back in the little old village school house when you were the 'Champeen' speller, and you spelled everybody down one Friday afternoon," asks Geo. T. Smith, of Smith-Sloan, Inc., Willys-Overland dealers, 228 South Brand boulevard.

Well, come on you spellers, get out your dictionaries, sharpen up your pencils and your wits, for the Willys-Overland dealers of Southern California headed by the Willys-Overland Pacific Company of Los Angeles have put up one of the new Overland touring cars, one of those with the larger and more powerful engine, as a prize winner of the "Overland Spelling Bee."

Every man, woman or child in Southern California who is not an employe of an Overland organization is eligible. All the winner has to do is to make more words out of the name "Overland" than anybody else entered in the contest.

The way to get into the contest is to go to the nearest Overland dealer and ask for a "Spelling Bee" blank, put your name and address upon it, and after you have thought of every word that you can make out of "Overland," mail it to "Contest Manager" P. O. Box 1420, Station C, Los Angeles, California.

The rules are simple:—"No one letter can be repeated in any one word; Only words in Webster's Standard dictionary can be used; All the answers must be legible and attached to the Spelling Bee blank. No employe of any Overland Dealer in Southern California can enter."

The contest starts the minute you read about it in your favorite paper, and closes May 30, 1924. All lists of words must be in the Contest Manager's mail on or before that date.

Now—for the "Champeen Speller of Southern California" and the winner of the new Overland touring car.

Show Distances For Efficient Braking

On a good road surface, with the brakes working properly, you should be able to stop your car traveling ten miles an hour in about nine feet. When running twice that fast it will take four times the distance to stop or around thirty-seven feet. While running at forty miles an hour it will take close to 150 feet.

Motor's Colors Match Sports Costumes

Combination of shades is striking feature of latest Oakland models, as fashion demands that the car harmonize with the striking designs and shadings that go to make up the 1924 wardrobe of the modern girl. The blue and orange of the Sport car form a brilliant setting for the athletic maiden who spends her time on the links.

Gay colors and fancy features are the vogue in motor cars today to keep pace with the frills of feminine fashions, according to Thos. E. Ricketts, 420 East Colorado street, Oakland dealers in Glendale.

"Motor car manufacturers have realized the necessity of dolling up their cars in order to make them more attractive in the eyes of the feminine motorists," says Mr. Ricketts. "The Oakland Motor Car Company have committed the daring in the production of the new Oakland Six Sport models. These attractive models are the very essence of sportiness in their striking and unusual shade of blue finish, set off with a brilliant touch of native orange.

"The whole atmosphere of Sportswear radiates with gay colorings and to complete the effect, Milady demands like colorings in her car as well as numerous dolled up features such as are incorporated in the Oakland sport touring and sport roadster.

"Sportswear was created through the interest that women have manifested in the various forms of outdoor sport, principally golf, and any day you may see lined up in the parking spaces of the various country clubs an endless array of smartly finished sport cars and among them the Oakland Six stands out because of its unusual beauty and different color combination. Like all other Oakland models those are done in Duco, the indestructible finish that has taken the country by storm and which keeps the car looking fresh and new throughout its lifetime. The advantage of Duco paint is that the owner can let the car stand outside in all sorts of weather, rain or shine and be assured that its beauty will not deteriorate. California is an out of door country and the Oakland is the first motor car to adapt itself fully to the rigors of the elements.

CHRYSLER MAKES STRIKING APPEAL

New Product Causes Furore Among Local Autoists On Showing Here

The first showing of the new Chrysler Six, which has been so eagerly awaited by motorists, is now being held at the showrooms of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, and Lyman P. Clark, president of the firm, declares that his first expectations of the favor that the car would meet with have been completely thrown in the shade by the welcome that has been accorded the new car, not only by the motoring public but also by the men engaged in the automotive business here.

The phaeton that he has on the floor now, a striking blue in color, has long, low body lines that make an irresistible appeal to the man who admires a car that holds the promise of speed from the first moment one looks at it, a promise that is abundantly carried out in the performance of the machine itself, as those who have had a demonstration in it are ready to testify.

Shows Speed Lines

The powerful six-cylinder engine, with its 201 cubic inches of piston displacement, built along lines that mark a wonderful advance in engine construction, has the power to send the Chrysler ahead at a 70-mile clip, and the perfect balance of all reciprocating parts insures the complete absence of vibration, so that a ride in the Chrysler is a revelation in riding comfort to those who have not yet experienced the delights of a ride in the car.

"No existing automobile," says Mr. Clark, "delivers so high a percentage of generated power to the actual propulsion of the vehicle as does the Chrysler. This is due to the fact that the unusually large valves are placed equally distant from the centers of combustion, so that all incoming gas has precisely the same distance to travel from each intake valve to the center of each cylinder. Each discharge of burned gas is removed from the cylinder with the same speed that the explosive charge is injected. This means an even power torque, giving a steady pull at low speeds, rapid accceleration on high gear and smooth high speed ability."

Four-Wheel Brakes

All models are equipped with the Chrysler-Lockheed four-wheel brakes, and the emergency brake acts on the transmission shaft. The front axle is specially designed to stand the torsion strains of front wheel braking.

Another feature of the car that makes for easy riding is the spring construction. The springs, of thin chrome-vanadium steel, are parallel to the wheels and close to the hubs, eliminating sidesway and permitting the car to be driven around corners at a speed that, without this feature, would be considered dangerous, while the deep frame adds to the riding comfort.

In the Chrysler Six, Mr. Clark says, have been combined the beauty and strength, the road ability and the comfort, the long life and the power that the purchaser seeks as his ideal in any car he buys.

The Truth

About this Light-Six—plus proof on proof

THIS Studebaker Light-Six is the supreme value in the "thousand-dollar" class.

It offers, not a few, but scores of advantages. In its chassis it represents the best that modern engineering knows. In its steels and quality of construction it is identical with the costliest cars we build.

This is to offer you proofs. Then urge that you see it before paying $1,000 or more for a car.

Some evidence

The extra values which this car typifies have made Studebaker the largest builder of quality cars.

They have made these cars a sensation. Sales have almost trebled in three years. Last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

The multiplying demand has forced an investment of $50,000,000 in model plants and equipment. Of this, $38,000,000 has been spent in the past five years, so the plants are up-to-date.

The engineering department which designs and superintends this Light-Six costs $500,000 per year.

The machines which build it are modern and exact. 517 operations on this car are exact to 1/1000th of an inch. 122 operations are exact to one-half 1/1000th of an inch.

1,200 inspectors are employed to submit each car in the making to 32,000 inspections.

Infinite care

The steels are selected from 35 formulas, each one proved best by years of test for its purpose. On some we pay the makers 15% premium to get them exactly right.

The crankshafts are machined on all surfaces, as was done in the Liberty Airplane Motors. This to give perfect motor balance, at an extra cost to us of $600,000 yearly.

It has more Timken bearings than any other competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

Studebaker Light-Six
Scores of extra values

Built by the leader in the fine-car class. One of the cars for which people last year paid $201,000,000.

Built in a model $50,000,000 plant, producing 150,000 cars yearly. And saving you by quantity production from $200 to $400.

Built of the same steels, with the same care, as the costliest cars we make.

The car that saved 11.4% in operating cost under rivals. The car with 14 Timken bearings.

Mail coupon for book about it

The equipment is unusual. The cushions are of genuine leather, and are ten inches deep.

Every part and detail accords with Studebaker traditions. And the name Studebaker has for 72 years stood for quality and class.

Mark this result

Some men who operate fleets of cars in this class called in auditors to compare the operating costs. They made comparisons on 329 cars, running up to 25,000 miles.

It was found that this Studebaker Light-Six cost for operation 11.4% less than the average of its rivals. This figure included depreciation. That meant $207.50 saved on 25,000 miles. All because of this quality construction.

What it saves you

We build 150,000 cars yearly. All such major costs as engineering, dies, overhead, etc., are divided by 150,000.

We build in model plants, with modern machinery, which have immensely reduced the manufacturing costs.

A car like this, built under ordinary conditions, would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

Learn, for your own sake, what that means to you.

TRAFFIC RELIEF SEEN IN TUNNEL CONTRACT AWARD

$3,500,000 Construction to Go to Portland Concern, P. E. Announces

With the awarding yesterday of a contract for the complete construction of the $3,500,000 Hollywood-Glendale-San Fernando valley tunnel, another major project which will have a far-reaching effect in the development of this city, is about to be actively begun. Announcement of the awarding of the contract was made last night by D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric railway.

The successful bidder is the engineering firm of Twohy Brothers, Portland, Ore. Plans for the Hill street terminal contemplate a considerable expansion of trackage facilities, for which purpose the building immediately on the north of the present station will be removed. Track layout plans provide for five separate spurs, each capable of holding six cars, the general plan of handling passengers being somewhat similar to the arrangement used at the rear of the Pacific Electric station at Sixth and Main streets.

Cut Running Time

It is understood that the contractor will begin work at the western terminus, near First and Glendale, about 300 feet of excavation being necessary to reach the site where the tunnel begins.

Time schedules to Hollywood, Glendale and San Fernando valley points will be shortened, Mr. Pontius said.

"Until this tunnel is actually in operation the public cannot fully appreciate the bearing it will have upon the relief of traffic and the speeding up of our service," he said. "During morning and evening rush hours, in order to meet travel requirements to the Hollywood district, cars on Hill street are operated about forty-second intervals. During the early evening rush hours three-car trains are operated on Sixth street at seven-minute intervals, and, on account of the heavy traffic from Los Angeles to Figueroa streets, travel over this section is unavoidably slow.

Glendale Schedule

"In direct contrast, trains through the tunnel will be operated at speeds ranging from thirty to thirty-five miles per hour with safety. The tunnel construction will affect the removal of 778 cars and trains from Hill street and 301 from Sixth street daily. Our Hollywood service will be operated in two and three-car units.

"The running time schedule to Hollywood and San Fernando valley points will be shortened about seven minutes, and to Glendale and Burbank by approximately ten minutes. The distance to Hollywood and San Fernando valley points will be shortened by one mile, while mileage to Glendale and Burbank will be reduced about one mile."

It is expected the work will be completed in the eighteen months allotted by the state railroad commission.

Rush of Tourists To Southland Will Pass All Records

Make ready for the motor tourist rush, is the word that homes to Southern California from all parts of the country. Indications are that the high record of visiting motorists last season will go crashing with the influx of 1924.

Advice reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California from many eastern points indicates that the cars shipped into the state through the forwarding department will show a gain over last year of 100 per cent. All transcontinental trails probably will be crowded as soon as the warm weather sets in, so that it behooves communities having auto camps to be prepared.

STUDEBAKER SETS FLORIDA RECORD

168-Hour Non-Stop Run Shows Light-6 Stamina In 3101 Mile Test

A remarkable seven-day, 168-hour, non-stop run of 3,101 miles, just completed here by a Studebaker light six touring car, is causing widespread comment among motorists in the vicinity of Tampa, Florida.

Eighteen drivers handled the car during the run. Taking out the time required for changing drivers, the light six actually covered the 3,101 miles in 147 hours. Gasoline consumption averaged 21 miles a gallon and more than 300 miles per quart of oil were obtained, according to particulars received by the Packer Auto Co., 245 South Brand oulevard, local dealers.

Running continuously day in and day out, and forced to idle down constantly congested traffic, the car's radiator thirsted for only one additional tea cup of water.

Run 75,000 Miles

The original owner, Monroe Lazarus, of the Tampa Daily Times, drove the Studebaker for fifteen months on daily express schedule over his newspaper route for 68,000 miles. He averaged 4,500 miles a month in the fifteen months. His records show an average of 20 miles per gallon of gas; eight tires were in service for 44,000 miles, and his total cost of operation, including every expense, was less than 5 cents a mile.

After 68,000 miles on this gruelling road work, the Studebaker was taken in by the Peninsular Motors Corporation, Tampa, who ran it 7,000 miles, making a total of 75,000 miles the car had been run. Then, without tuning it up, the traded-in Studebaker was started off on the record-breaking run.

No adjustments were necessary during the test. The motor and the car were in excellent running condition at the termination of the non-stop flight. This record, it is said, has never before been approached in the south.

TAKE AGENCY TO SELL MOON CARS

Penn-Rawls Motor Co. to Hold Opening Tonight at 510 East Broadway

The formal opening of the new Moon agency, conducted by the Penn-Rawls Motor Company, at 510 East Broadway, will be held tonight from 6 to 10 o'clock, and an invitation is extended to every motorist in Glendale to attend and get acquainted with the new firm, whose members, O. W. Penn and W. G. Rawls, have established themselves as a unit in the city's commercial life.

Mr. Penn was formerly in the real estate business in Long Beach, and Mr. Rawls was connected with the Pierce-Arrow organization in that city. They have selected Glendale as the scene of their operations because of their belief that the territory here offers unexampled opportunities for them to build a success, and the growing popularity of the Moon car will, they believe, be the stepping stone to a prosperous business.

The success of the new series, as shown by last month's sales in Los Angeles, will, they predict, be repeated on a proportinate scale here.

They invite especially all Moon owners to avail themselves of their service and will keep a large stock of Moon parts on hand at all times, as well as furnishing a general service on all makes of cars by competent mechanics, and they will also have wash racks and every facility for caring for all kinds of automobiles.

TRADE FINE, SAYS OLDS EXECUTIVE

Business Conditions Looking Bright All Over State, Says Plughoff

Business conditions in general throughout California are very good and they were further improved by the recent rainfall.

This was the message brought back a few days ago by A. D. Plughoff, General Manager of J. W. Leavitt and Company, Oldsmobile Six distributors, to C. H. Hunter, 208 West Broadway, local dealer.

"The public is waking up to the wonderful values that are offered in the new Oldsmobile Six and are commencing to see that here indeed is one of the most wonderful values ever offered in a motor car. The performance features of the car, its freedom from vibration and its reliability are increasingly proving its value as dependable transportation while it is conceded in motor circles that no value was ever before offered at anywhere near this price which could compare with the new Oldsmobile.

"I am confident that all records for Oldsmobile sales will be shattered this year," said Plughoff, "the performance of the new model in the hands of California owners since it was introduced last fall is such that the public has expressed its confidence in the car by an ever increasing volume of orders."

C. H. Hunter points with pride to the fact that all sales records for a single month were broken in February by the Olds Motor Works when the sales exceeded those of January, previous high month, by more than 1300 cars.

NEW RECORD FOR SALES OF FORDS

Retail Deliveries in March Reach 205,735 Total For Cars, Trucks

Retail deliveries of Ford cars and trucks in the United States during the month of March reached the record-breaking total of 205,735, it was announced by the Ford Motor Company.

Nothing in the history of the automobile industry compares with this remarkable record, it is declared.

A significant feature developed during the last ten days of the month when sales averaged 10,804 cars and trucks a day, indicating that the spring buying rush has begun and that under this enormous demand production of the company will be taxed to the limit in an endeavor to meet the heavy flood of orders.

The dealer organization all over the country, it is indicated in reports to the head offices in Detroit, is making every effort to better the March production and sales during the present month, with prospects that the April record will reach an even higher notch than has ever been attained in the past.

PREDICTS RAISE IN AUTO PRICES

Shortage of Cars Looms as Many Factors Tend to Advance Costs

Automobile prices are due for a raise within the very near future. This is the definite trend of the industry, according to a letter received yesterday by Ray L. Galvin, sales manager of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., South Brand boulevard at Maple avenue, from Charles S. Howard, president of the Howard Automobile Company, Buick distributors, from New York City.

His letter stated in part "I believe that raises in prices are inevitable within the next few months. Motorists will have to order their cars early to insure delivery. Indications here are that all automobile dealers are facing a shortage of cars, and many factors will force the price increases."

According to executives of the Howard Company, the condition is practically the same throughout the trade. Production cannot possibly supply the demand, and labor, material and other manufacturing conditions will shortly force the prices of cars sharply upwards.

Howard said that all the bigger factories were running at capacity, building as many automobiles as possible under existing conditions. Production for 1924 is far ahead of 1923 except in the case of a few smaller manufacturers.

In connection with the opening he will have a display of Packards that will rival the most ambitious exhibit ever staged, and the additional features of the ceremonies will also add to the entertainment of his guests.

N. P. Banks Post Resolution Expresses Regret at Comrade's Passing

In memory of the late Comrade Henry B. Dewing the following tribute is paid by the members of the N. P. Banks Post, Department of California and Nevada, G. A. R.

"In the departure of Comrade Dewing from this life, this post, N. P. Banks, Department of California and Nevada, G. A. R., has sustained a loss that we who knew him best, feel very deeply. To have known him was to have appreciated him highly. He entered the service of his country when little more than a boy in his teens, enlisting in the Massachusetts 42nd Infantry and did valiant service until the close of the war. The long marches, the hard-fought battles, the picket duty, all the demands of a true and brave soldier were met by him. He came to the end of life here, feeling that he had fought a good fight, folded his tent and went out into the great beyond to give an account of his stewardship before the Great Commander-in-Chief, knowing that He rightly judges and faithfully rewards."

LA CRESCENTA

LEGION MEMBERS HOLDS MESS CALL

Verdugo Hills Post Receives Charter From Head of State Department

"Over the Top" is where the boys of the Verdugo Hills, American Legion post, went last night with flying colors at their first mess call, to be an annual affair from now on.

In a hall decorated with red, white and blue, with Old Glory as the main decoration, Commander E. L. Sullivan presiding at the speakers' table, called the meeting to order, when the color bearer brought up the flag all arose and saluted, singing "America." Commander Sullivan gave a short talk telling the aims of the Legion and also said it was behind every community interest.

Introducing Captain Insley as the leader of the community singing, Commander Sullivan turned the meeting over for a few minutes in which the assembly sang "Mr. Zip-Zip-Zip" and "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," etc.

Resuming the gavel, Commander Sullivan made a speech of welcome, after which he introduced Mark S. Collins, president of the Improvement association. Mr. Collins stated in his two minutes that his association was behind the boys through everything and pledged the assistance of that organization for all times. The next speaker was the genial Harry Fowler of Verdugo City Association of Commerce. Mr. Fowler said he hoped he would live to see the day that Verdugo City would merit the praise and credit due the local legion post for its splendid work.

Former Governor Plaisted of Maine explained he is now of La Crescenta valley and concluded his speech with an appropriate toast to "Old Glory."

Finds Inspiration

A high official of the legion in the person of Dailey Stafford, county inter-post council of San Gabriel, said, "After listening for ten minutes to your speakers, I feel that I can go back to San Gabriel full of inspiration and pep." The legion is, according to Mr. Stafford, an asset to any community and this post is full of peppy live wire men.

Joe Wilson of Glendale Post No. 127, said he was glad to be present and assist in the first mess call and that Glendale felt proud to be the father of such a post as No. 288. Commander C. J. Scribner of Monte Vista post in Tujunga said he had come there to eat and not to make speeches.

Another Glendale visitor was Attorney Eugene Wix. Mr. Wix is also the Comrade Commander of the 32nd district and he was out on a salesman's trip, out to sell the American legion to the citizens of the U. S. A. Greely Kolts, editor of the Montrose-La Crescenta Star, assured Mr. Wix he was sold the legion, having had two-thirds of his family in the army.

Charter Presented

After this talk, Commander Sullivan turned over the gavel to Adjutant A. E. Baron, when Commander Collins presented the charter to the new legion, Commander Sullivan responding to the presentation, accepting the charter with a full sense of the responsibility now vested in the legion. Mr. Baron thanked the mess sergeant for the wonderfully good supper served. When the mess sergeant was called, She came in all smiles. Yes! It was another good neighbor of Glendale, Mrs. Menser, who planned the whole menu.

Then came the treat of the whole evening, James Foley, who told droll stories in his own inimitable manner. A change in the program was given with the vocal numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard, who were highly applauded. Comrade J. F. Collins, department commander of California, spoke of the pleasure it gave him to enjoy the privilege of presenting the charter to this post as he knew the men here were worthy of this honor and would stand together for all things American. and Ed Risdon, editor of the Legion Bulletin, expressed his pleasure at being present, and Capt. Insly then presented one of his boys who gave a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Insley.

Announces Dance

Mr. Blanford made an announcement of the Buddies' dance to be given Saturday night of this week and every one is invited to come and make this affair a success for the Buddies.

An announcement to the effect that all forest reserves are now closed and guarded with armed patrols on account of the foot and mouth disease was also given.

A delicious dinner consisting of fruit salad, steak, potatoes, rolls, radishes, onions, coffee, ice cream and cake was served the guests, the Buddies being helped by the uniformed Boy Scouts. After the dinner and program dancing was enjoyed by all.

$5.00 Prize Offered

Don't forget tonight is the night you may win $5.00 at the competition for a new Community Chorus name. The prize will be awarded at the La Crescenta schoolhouse where the weekly Community Sing will take place. Great times are promised and there are also to be Glendalians present with Mr. Tucker of the neighboring city Community Sing. Refreshments are to be served after the business of the evening is concluded.

Monday night will see the first meeting of the fifteen picked men who will hereafter rule the destinies of this fair valley, that is to a certain extent. This meeting will be held in the new home of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce at 125 West Hermosa street.

SUGGEST CHANGE IN STREET NAME

Monta Bonita Drive Picked As New Cognomen for Tunnel Street

H. G. Warren of the Chamber of Commerce believes that Tunnel street is the worst possible name that thoroughfare could have and proposes to change it to Monta Bonita drive. A petition to this effect is now being circulated.

Property owners had protested about the name, so Mr. Warren went to Professor Alliston, instructor of Spanish at Occidental College, and selected the name of Monta Bonita drive, which has been reserved at the department of public works in Los Angeles and will no doubt be adopted.

The party which was to have been given tomorrow, April 18, by the Junior Music Club, has been postponed. The club will take up the course of study just received from the federation.

Mrs. Abigail O. Sherriff, who last Thursday noon addressed the luncheon meeting of the Women's Twentieth Century Club on "Women of the Bible," is an aunt of Sherill Osborn of this community. She formerly lived in Davenport, Iowa, where she was very prominent in educational and social circles. She was supervisor of elementary schools, and of normal work in the high schools of Davenport. She directed the Bible work in the Y. W. C. A. and in the "Lend a Hand Club," composed of working women, and had charge of the educational section of the Davenport Women's Club. Mrs. Sherriff has taken up her permanent residence in Pasadena.

New Library Books

Robinson's "Mind in the Making" is one of the new books of the more thoughtful type found at the Eagle Rock branch of the Los Angeles public library, states Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner, local librarian. The book is an analysis of human behavior, beginning with the savage in his primitive state and proceeding up to present times.

"Outwitting Our Nerves," by Josephine Jackson, is a popular treatment of nervous disorders from the psychoanalytic point of view. The book is written in a cheerful vein, and endeavors to show when the troubles lie with the human race by pointing out the way to health and happiness. She occasionally calls a headache an emotional spree.

Another book which is closely allied to the subject under discussion, but which is also treated from another point of view, is Ralph Parlette's "University of Hard Knocks." This was originally used as a Chautauqua lecture several years ago before psychoanalys's ever was heard of.

Other books on allied subjects available at the Eagle Rock branch are:

Brill, "Fundamental Conceptions of Psychoanalysis."

Freud, "Psychopathology of Everyday Life."

Seton, "Psychology of the Solar Plexus."

BURBANK

PLAN TO ATTEND SUMMER COURSES

Burbank Teachers Will Go To University During Usual Vacation

A number of Burbank teachers are planning to attend the U. S. C. summer courses this year, either the eight weeks' course starting June 16 or the six weeks' course starting June 30.

Teaching teachers how to teach is one of the greatest problems of modern educators and it is to accomplish this result that universities all over the United Statse are offering summer courses to teachers.

Last year nine enrollments from Burbank were on the U. S. C. lists and it is believed that this year there will be at least fifteen. Among the courses to be studied are psychology and mental measurement. The results of psychological tests to determine mental age will be gone over and this laboratory work passed on to teachers from elementary and high schools throughout California and many other states, as the summer sessions of this university are nation-wide in appeal.

Many Homes Rising

John Beck, of Los Angeles, who recently leased twenty-nine acres on the east side of Vineland avenue, is building a house at Vineland avenue and Arminta streets, which he and his family will occupy.

Mr. Moses of Vineland avenue is laying the foundation of a modern four-room stucco house on his acre on Clybourn street.

An attractive five-room stone house, modern in every respect, will be built on the Moulten subdivision on Olinda street.

Mr. and Mrs. Busha plan to begin soon the erection of a home on the front of their Roscoe street lot.

The needlework section of the Women's Club held a pre-Easter luncheon and sale at the clubrooms on Tuesday, April 15. The articles on sale included aprons, dresser scarfs, luncheon sets and towels.

Six Burbank Holidays

Six official holidays have been recommended to the City Trustees by the Chamber of Commerce committee on opening and closing hours, namely: New Year's, Decoration Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Also Armistice Day at such times as the local American Legion arranges for a celebration of the day. It was the recommendation of the committee that the daily opening and closing hours should be left as they are. Where there are any discrepancies it was thought that a friendly consideration of the matter with the parties concerned will have a better effect than any attempt of arbitrary action.

Charges L. A. Attorney Got Her Life Savings

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Charging that Charles G. Greene, Los Angeles attorney, defrauded her of her life's savings by misrepresenting the financial condition of the Central Milling Company at Olive, Orange county, suit for over $3,500 was filed here by Anna S. Schlicher. The aged woman, who claims she works "by the day" for her money, says Attorney Greene told her "the boys" were backing the concern for $150,000 and that it was worth $450,000. She gave him $3,000 to invest in a mortgage on the property. Recently the company was ordered sold for $10,000.

Extension of Valley Stage Line Requested

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—The original stage line running between Los Angeles and San Fernando today made application to the state railroad commission for a permit to operate their busses to Olive View sanitarium, a county institution, and the United States Veterans' Hospital which is to be built near San Fernando.

GLENDALE YOUTH SEES NASH PLANT

John W. Garner Tells Parents Of Visit to Factory With Classmates

That, as a member of the senior class in electrical and mechanical engineering of Iowa State college, he was recently afforded an opportunity to see Nash cars being builded in the great factory at Kenosha, Wis., was the statement made by John Warren Garner in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Garner, residents of Glendale.

Young Garner, who entered the Iowa college before his parents sold their large midwest ranch and came west to invest in the "fastest growing town in the United States," took particular interest in the trip tto the Nash factory, he stated, in view of the fact that the family has owned three Nash cars.

Receive Letter

The elder Mr. Garner showed his son's letter to officials of the Nash Sales company, 1234 South Brand boulevard, distributors for Nash and LaFayette cars, yesterday, and was much interested in the fact that a factory report of the very trial of which young Garner had written has just been received from E. H. McCarty, general sales manager, by Donald C. Barbee of the local organization.

The communication from Mr. McCarty disclosed the keen interest which is being taken by technical students in the factory that builds 93 per cent of an automobile complete within the walls of one plant. It stated that Iowa State is but one of several midwest schools that send their students through the Nash factories yearly. Other colleges that make first-hand study of Nash production methods include the University of Wisconsin, University of Illinois, Armour Institute of Technology, Northwestern university and DePauw university.

The Iowa students visited the plant under supervision of Paul W. Eeles, professor of mechanical engineering, and F. H. McLain, professor of electrical engineering. The inspection trip was a regular part of the college curriculum.

E. H. McCarty personally greeted the youths and they were shown through by commpetent guides who explained the Nash straight-line production wherein each operation follows another in logical sequence from the time the raw material is received until the cars are given their final road tests.

Repeal of prohibition of spirits in Norway is foreshadowed by a bill introduced in the Parliament.

Headlight Law To Be More Rigidly Enforced

J. L. Gardner of the Gardner Electric Co., 106 W. Harvard, which is an authorized headlight adjusting station, says that he has recently received notice from the state authorities that the automobile headlight law will be more rigidly enforced the coming year. In Mr. Gardner's estimation the Flat-lite Reflectors more fully meet the law's requirements than any other type of reflector.

The Gardner Electric Co. is also Glendale headquarters for Presto-lite Batteries, an ideal battery for both automobiles and radio sets.

Used Car Sales Always Increase In Early Spring

Just as people choose new spring clothes around Easter time—just so does the call of the open road beckon to the man thinking of buying a car. And, as it is generally realized that a good used car gives more service in proportion to its initial cost, and has less depreciation than a new model, many look at and buy cars during April and May, says H. M. Syre, dealer in used cars at 112 West Colorado.

Never were used cars sold more reasonably than during the present year, and never were cars as a whole offered that would give better service. For years Mr. Syre was a factory inspector for the Haynes automobile factory, and through a varied garage experience, is able to quickly judge the worth of a car.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SQUEAKIE'S BOTTLE

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along in front of the eight and nine cent store, the rabbit gentleman saw Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, pushing a baby carriage slowly along, and looking in the store window at some beautiful ribbons.

"Good morning, Mrs. Twistytail," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Good morning, Mr. Longears!" grunted the lady pig.

"I suppose you are going shopping in that six and seven—oh, excuse me, it's the eight and nine cent store; isn't it?" said the bunny.

"Yes," grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "But I'm not going shopping there unless some one helps me."

"Why, have you lost your pocketbook?" asked Mr. Longears.

"No, but I have no one with whom I can leave my baby, Squeakie Squealer," went on the lady pig. I can't wheel her in her carriage inside the store—"

"Ha! Say no more! I'd stay out here and mind Squeakie for you while you go shopping!" offered the rabbit.

"Oh, you're a dear!" gurgled Mrs. Twistytail, wrinkling her funny, rubbery nose in a strange way. "Squeakie is asleep and her bottle of sour milk is in the carriage with her. Just give it to her if she awakens and cries."

"I will," promised the bunny rabbit, and it did not seem strange to him that the little pig baby should have sour milk in her bottle, for little pigs just love it, and it is better for them than sweet milk.

So while Mrs. Twistytail went in the eight and nine cent store, Uncle Wiggily, putting his tall, silk hat firmly on his head, began slowly pushing Squeakie's carriage up and down on the sidewalk.

Along pranced Uncle Butter, the goat.

"Ah, I suppose you have a new little baby rabbit there," bleated Uncle Butter, making his chin whiskers go up and down like an elevator.

"No, this is Squeakie Squeaker, a little pig," whispered the bunny. "Please don't wake her up."

"All right—I won't," whispered Uncle Butter, as he pranced on. Then up shuffled up Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear gentleman.

"Ah, is that your youngest nephew or niece?" growled Mr. Whitewash, giving Uncle Wiggily a playful poke in the ribs.

"Sush! This is Squeakie Squealer," whispered the bunny. "Don't wake her up!"

"No, I'll not," rumbled the polar bear, and he didn't mean to, but his voice was so loud that it sounded like thunder, and the little pig baby in her carriage turned and squirmed and awakened.

"Wah! Wah! Wah Woo!" she cried.

"There, now, Squeakie, here's your bottle of sour milk," spoke Uncle Wiggily kindly, putting it in the baby pig's paws.

"Wah! Wah! Ga goo!" wailed Squeakie, for she was a bit cross, having been awakened so suddenly. She took her bottle and, with all her might, she flung it out of the carriage.

"Ah! Naughty! Naughty!" gently scolded Mr. Whitewash, and he caught the bottle before it could fall and break.

"Dear me! What a strange child!" murmured Uncle Wiggily. He gave the bottle back to the little pig, and gently wheeled the carriage to and fro. Then, as Mr. Whitewash, blinking his eyes, shuffled off, along came Grandpa Whackum, the beaver.

"Ah, taking one of your little cousins out for a ride?" asked the beaver.

"This is Squeakie Squealer, the pig baby. I'm minding her while her mother is shopping," said the bunny. "And I wish Mrs. Twistytail would hurry out."

"Wah! Wah — wah — woo!" wailed Squeakie.

Sour milk spattered all over him.

"She's hungry—I can tell by the way she cries," grunted Grandpa Whackum. "Give her the bottle."

Uncle Wiggily again put Squeakie's bottle of sour milk in her paws.

"That's what she wanted," chuckled the beaver. But he had no more than said that before Squeakie threw the bottle out of the carriage again, crying:

"Ga zink! Ga zunk!"

The bottle hit the beaver gentleman on his back and a lot of sour milk spattered all over him and Uncle Wiggily.

"Um! This isn't so nice!" said Grandpa Whackum.

"No," spoke Uncle Wiggily. But, being patient and kind, he picked up the baby pig's bottle and gave it to her again.

"Wah! Ga zook! Boo!" cried Squeakie, for she was cross and sleepy. Once more she threw her bottle out as hard as she could throw it. And just as she did so, along came the Fox and the bottle hit him on the nose—very hard.

"Oh, my goodness!" howled the Fox, who was just going to try to catch Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, my nose!" And away he ran. Then Uncle Wiggily smiled and Grandpa Whackum smiled and the bunny gentleman said:

"You are a good shot, Squeakie Squealer!" And then Mrs. Twistytail came out of the eight and nine cent store with a new piano she had sought and she said:

"Thank you, Uncle Wiggily, for taking care of Squeakie for me."

"You are very welcome! It was a pleasure," said the bunny as he wiped some sour milk out of his left eye. And if the fountain pen doesn't put red ink on a snowball and make it look like strawberry shortcake, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Easter eggs.

GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN

Ex-Senator George E. Chamberlain, who was chosen by Harry M. Daugherty, late attorney general to represent him in the action that was taken against him to oust him from the cabinet, is known as one of the most prominent lawyers in the northwest.

CHAMBERLAIN

He was defeated for re-election to the senate in 1920.

George Earle Chamberlain was born near Natchez, Miss, January 1, 1854. He was educated at Washington and Lee university and after graduation went to Oregon in 1876. Four years later he was elected to the Oregon house of representatives. He became district attorney of the third judiciary district, 1884-86; was attorney general of the state, 1891-95, and district attorney of the fourth district, 1900-04. He was elected governor in 1903 and again in 1907, resigning his post in 1909 to become United States senator. He was re-elected in 1915.

He is known as the author of the military preparedness bill, which bears his name, in 1918.

ELIHU ROOT

Another honor has been conferred upon Elihu Root in recognition of his service in public office as well as his ability as statesman and jurist. The Roosevelt medal for 1924 awarded for distinction in public office has been conferred upon Root.

Past his seventy-ninth birthday, Root is still one of the most active men among the country's leaders. He was practicing law fifty years ago.

Root's great grandfather is said to have fought at Concord Bridge with the 300 Americans who drove 800 "Red Coats" back and chased them to Boston.

Elihu Root was born in Clinton, N. Y., February 15, 1845. He obtained his A. B. degree at Hamilton college and was awarded degrees by Yale, Columbia, New York university, Buenos Aires and many other colleges and universities.

His first venture in politics was as U. S. district attorney in the southern district of New York in 1883. President McKinley named Root secretary of war August 1, 1899. Roosevelt, too, valued Root's services enough to name him secretary of state. In 1909 Root was elected U. S. senator from New York. He served as U. S. consul in the North Atlantic fisheries arbitration in 1910. He is a member of the permanent court of arbitration of the Hague tribunal; served on the commission of international jurists which reported the plan of the world court; served as ambassador extraordinary at the head of a special diplomatic mission to Russia in 1917, and as commissioner plenipotentiary to the conference on the limitation of armament at Washington in 1921.

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By R. T. BULKELEY
For International News Service

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 17.—All reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Yale freshmen continue to show "a rise in scholarship," according to President James Rowland Angell. President Angell issued his statement, perturbed because local newspapers declared that mid-year exams resulted in dropping "over a hundred freshmen." Instead, according to President Angell, "the facts are that twenty-five were dropped as against forty-one last year. As a matter of fact, the number we have had to let go at mid-years has steadily decreased since the common freshman year was inaugurated. There has been a corresponding rise in scholarship from year to year of these last four freshman classes."

Freshman feelings were outraged recently when every member of that class received a letter from a large New York publishing house announcing the new location of their children's book section. "We do not know your age," the letter said, "but we hope you have not entirely outgrown fairy tales, and we believe you have begun to appreciate the beauties of verse." In conclusion, the letter said: "Come down some afternoon when your lessons are done. Remember our Children's Book Department is meant for you." In between were sandwiched a lot of things under which the Yale youngsters writhed, among them: "If you are good perhaps a 'grown-up' will buy a book for you, or let you buy one out of your allowance."

Yale Daily News has been holding one of its competitions, which, in the vernacular, is called "Heeling the News," success in which leads to a place on the regular staff. The previous competition led to some remarkable interviews, which were carried in prominent places on the front page of the oldest college daily. Included were interviews with ex-Prime Minister Hughes, of Australia; Lord Rothmere, David Belasco, Lady Diana Manners, Elsie Ferguson, Zoe Aikens, Dwight F. Davis, assistant secretary of war.

Yale Daily News staff men of the past have attained some nigh places in newspaperdom, as well as in other walks of life. So modern has the News become that it now runs a weekly rotogravure section, with students competing for places on its separate staff by furnishing photographs.

Yale students will yield to the lure of the sea this summer. Travel bureaus are doing a lively business enrolling prospective tourists from among the undergraduates, and various students are organizing their own personally-conducted groups. Newell Neidlinger, of East Orange, N. J., is to take some of his classmates on a midnight sun cruise, while several other parties will head for the Olympic yames as tourists and spectators. So far there has been no indication of any "cattle boat tourists" from Yale this summer.

Several fraternities must find new homes, as Yale pushes out her great building groups in an effort to provide adequate room for incoming students. The west side of York street, facing Memorial Quadrangle, is considered the probable new location for these structures, and one—Wolf's Head—has a monumental structure already under way there. DKE and Yale Record, an undergraduate publication, are working on plans for buildings along the same street and in the same block, the buildings to rise as fast as funds are available.

Yale's hundreds of returning graduates, who will observe "Harvard game day" and commencement next June, will be housed entirely in Yale-owned buildings, according to indications. A suggestion has gone forth to every class due for a reunion that such buildings are available, and no longer will townsfolk benefit by "renting rooms for commencement." Future reunions will thus be highly concentrated, something the graduates will appreciate, for even New Haven is a "town of magnificent distances," as a graduate will testify who in the past has hunted for one class headquarters or another.

Who's Who

MERE POWER OF WEALTH IS OVERRATED, DECLARES OTTO H. KAHN

"The power of mere wealth is, I believe, generally overrated," said Otto H. Kahn, prominent American financier. "That power in America has greatly decreased, largely through the vigorous and enlightened leadership of the late President Roosevelt, from what it was at the time he came into office. It will, I am convinced, further decrease through the action of natural circumstances.

OTTO KAHN

"The use of capital at the hands of its owners is a subject concerning which there exists a great deal of misapprehension and hazy thinking. The rich man can spend only a relatively small sum of money unproductively or selfishly. The money that it is in his power actually to waste is exceedingly limited.

"Money in the hands of the individual is continually and feverishly on the search for opportunities, i. e., for creative and productive use.

"It is not true 'the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer.' On the contrary, the diffusion of wealth has been going on apace; the trend of things within the past twenty years has been greatly toward diminishing the difference in the standard and general way of living between the various categories of our population.

"It is worth nothing in this connection that, if all incomes over $10,000 were taken and distributed among those earning less than $10,000 annually, the result, as near as it is possible to figure it out, would be that the incomes of those receiving that distribution would be increased barely 10 per cent.

"And the consequence of any such division, while of little benefit to the recipients, would be an immense loss of national productivity by turning a powerful and fructifying stream into a mass of little rivulets, many of which would simply lose themselves in the sand."

Mr. Kahn was discussing the effect of extreme surtaxes on the country at large in discouraging thrift and self-denial.

"There are only two ways in which the working fund and the energy needed for the conduct of the nation's industries can be provided," he said.

"The first one is subject to reasonable control and to the watchfulness of public opinion, to give free scope to individual initiative, enterprise and responsibility, and to stimulate men to effort, to thrift and to self-denial by the incentive of reward.

"The second way is to look to the state for being the universal dispenser and provider and regulator.

"It is impossible for the methods of individualism, on which our economic, social and political system is based, to function adequately if both the growth of capital resources needed for industry and the reward of effort and risk continue everlastingly to be curtailed under the existing scheme of taxation, or as they would be under the proposed Democratic scheme. The two things and aims are simply not reconcilable."

Diet and Health

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor:—I've often won-red why Bobbie Burns wailed—

To see oursels as ithers see
No longer do I wonder, for ne power has the giftie given to see myself as others see and, like Hamlet, I could cry
O, that this too, too solid flesh uld melt!" But alas, like Ham-
I also have thoughts and es and dreams, but no action.
"Could you take enough interin a weak-willed, thirtynds-above-the-limit, seventeen-r-old girl to send your precious nphlets on reducing with the l-strengthener, 'It Won't Be y Easier Tomorrow'? Stamps
l s. a. s. e. enclosed as request-
Thank you so much. I know lter even the weakest of us.—

rjorie."

By the time you see this in the ers, Marjorie, you will have d the precious pamphlet for ne time, and you undoubtedly five or ten pounds lighter by s time. It is not so much the ill" to do it as it is the "want"
do. If you want to do a thing d enough, you will find the l to do it. You certainly are e to begin to reduce now. But member, you are still growing, don't cut down your growth
ds. The things you should it from your diet are the cans, sweets, ice-cream sodas, ex-s fats, etc.

I think I had beter give you the per daily foundation for a re-ing diet, in case anything went ong with the pamphlet:

Foundation Reducing Diet:

First:—At least a half pound, better a pound, every day of ne waterly vegetables (the en leaf vegetables are specially od)—lettuce, spinach, celery, paragus, watercress, cabbage, t top greens, tomatoes, etc. A nd of these, cooked or un-ked, without fat, will be ap-ximately 100 C.

Second:—One-half pound of er vegetables, such as carrots, ts, onions, parsnips and squash, every day. This will approx-te another 100 C.

Third:—100 to 200 C. of fruit
ly. One large apple, orange, nana or pear; one-half grape-it; one melon, four and a half hes in diameter; one cup of ries, grapes or cherries; three four plums, apricots, lemons or ches; of dried fruit, three or r dates, two large figs or onerth cup of raisins or currents, each 100 C.

Your fruits and vegetables will nish a large share of the vita-ns and mineral elements and ne carbohydrates or energy
ds. It is best to take them w.

Fourth:—Every day you should have at least one pint of skim or buttermilk. That will amount to 160 C. (ten C. to the ounce) of which about 75 C. are complete protein. Milk will also give you a liberal supply of calcium or lime. If you prefer whole milk, you will have to count it a total of 520 C. to the pint (20 C. to the ounce).

If you do not care for milk, then take three ounces (about two heaping tablespoonfuls) of cottage cheese. This you will need count only 100 C., but it will give you 75 C. of complete protein, and the lime, the same as the milk would.

Fifth:—Two average sized potatoes, 200 C., OR two slices of whole wheat bread, one-half inch thick, same number of calories. Those of you who are gouty or rheumatic had better take the potatoes instead of the bread, because of their alkaline salts.

Sixth:—Those who do not take whole milk should have one level tablespoonful of butter during the day (100 C.) for its anti-opthalmic or fat soluble A vitamin.

Seventh:—Protein. You must have about 100 C. more of protein, beside what you get in the milk. You can get this, in a large measure, in three or four ounces of lean meat or fish (150 C. total) OR two or three eggs (one egg 75 C., about 30 protein C.); OR 20 large peanuts (total 200 C.) will give you 40 C. good protein.

What I have outlined for you comes approximately to 1000 C. If you go on 1200 C. a day for your reducing diet, that leaves you 200 C. or so to disport as your fancy indicates. You can take some simple candy, the value of which you can judge by the sugar, one ounce of sugar containing 115 C. Or you can have part of an ordinary slice of pie which is 300 to 600 C., depending upon its richness; or some ice cream (the same number of C.). But I advise you not to take these because it is best to learn not to care for them.

Tomorrow—Confessions of a Baby

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or ciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the

Refutes 'East Is East'

Mr. Kipling was wrong, according to this college romance. MR. and MRS. FRANKLIN C. H. LEE. She is a white girl and he is a Chinese. The romance started at Columbia university, where he is a teacher and she was a student.

"East is east, and west is west, and never the twain shall meet." Kipling wrote that long before Miss Olga Ruesch entered the class in Mandarin Chinese of Prof. Franklin C. H. Lee, Chinese, at Columbia university. Now they're married. The ceremony was performed at St. John's Lutheran church in Union Hill, N. J. Mrs. Lee is 23 and an artist.

Heart and Home

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A LOVE PROBLEM

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—I am a girl 18 years old and in love with a young man four years older than I. I believe he loves me, too. He is a conductor on one of the city cars, and I have heard he was married. Because of that I will not make a date with him, as I would not like to break up his home. I asked him, and he told me he was not married. A friend he goes with tells me that he is. His asks me if I believe him, and I don't know what to answer. Kindly advise me. FRANCES.

In a problem like yours it is always best to be on the safe side. Do not go with the conductor since you have reason to believe he is married. He probably enjoys flirting with you and for the fun he gets out of it pretends he is not married. When he asks if you believe him laugh a little and say of course you do, or do not, whichever answer you prefer. If you laugh when you say it, he will not be offended. Do not mind offending him, however, if you find he really is married and has merely been flirting with you. Besides I would not advise you to enter into much conversation while riding on the street car, because it is not in good taste.

A LIFE OF TROUBLE

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—I am a woman almost 50 years old, and have had nothing but trouble all my life. Five years ago I lost my husband and was left with four children and without money or a home. Two years later I married again. I thought this man would make a good husband and he surely did. I have only one of the children at home. I could never have found a better man than he is. It is now three years since I married him, and there is only one thing which keeps me from being happy. My husband has been divorced, and in my religion we do not believe in divorces, and we are no tallowed to marry a divorced person. I cannot be a member of the church any more, which worries me constantly.

Kindly let me know if I should continue living with this man, or should I leave him and be a member of the church? ANXIOUS.

I cannot solve your problem for you. Your conscience, and yours, alone, must settle the matter. I will only say that your marriage cannot be very wrong in the eyes of God or so much happiness would not have resulted from it.

A DARK ROSE: People rarely improve their appearance when they interfere with nature. A person with a "muddy" complexion should avoid clear colors. Mixed shades are always far more becoming. There is a light brown powder for brunettes, which you might find more becoming than the flesh shade.

UNDECIDED: Continue to keep company as you have been doing. It would be foolish to give up a friend you already have for an uncertainty.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 17 years old and attending high school. One of my girl friends told me I wasn't frivolous enough to be popular with boys. She herself was crazy about a certain fellow. Just for fun I thought I would try being frivolous and see if I could go with him. We talked together a little and wrote a few notes in class and he asked if he could walk home from school with me. It was just what I wanted and so I let him.

My girl friend was very jealous and said that as long as he was taking me home perhaps she had better give me his club pin. She also told him she thought he was paying too much attention to me.

Since then she has been very cool to me. I told her I was only frivolous in fun and had no desire to go with that particular boy, but she won't forgive me. Since then I have done nothing to make him go with me and he is still going with her.

Do you think she had any real reason to be angry at me, or jealous?

NOBODY'S DARLING.

Your girl friend does not seem to be able to take a joke. Since you had no intention of hurting her or cutting her out of her sweetheart, it seems to me she ought to laugh and forget the whole matter. Try to forget it yourself and I think before long she will be just as good a friend as she was formerly.

A LOVE PROBLEM

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please tell me what your advice is about cousins marrying?

GERTRUDE.

Only too often cousins marry with disastrous results. The family weaknesses are multiplied in the children. On the other hand there are cases where the children of such a union are normal. If you contemplate marrying a cousin consult a physician first and get his advice in your particular case. Such marriages are not legal in some states, I believe.

RED HANDS

Everybody suffers from red hands at some period or another, for red hands are due to any number of causes. Exposure is one cause, in which case the hands should be treated with oil or various glycerine preparations. Bad circulation is a frequent cause and is remedied by massage. Eczema is a third cause which, in its early stages, can be treated by rubbing the hands with oil but which in any severe case had better be treated by a doctor.

Here are some formulas which will keep even the most hard worked hands soft and white:

Rose water ..... 3 ounces
Glycerine ..... 2½ ounces
Carbolic acid ..... 9 drops

This is good for many cases of chapped hands although it contains no oil. I recommend it for red hands because glycerine is very bleaching. I should also like to recommend my honey-almond formula which not only bleaches the skin, but which keeps it smooth and soft when it has become rough and dry.

Massaging the hands is of more value than most women think, but few know how to do it properly, although some manicure shops are now beginning to make a specialty of it. Take any good, nourishing cold cream, for ordinary purposes the fine cold cream given in this column will do very well. If the hands, however, are very thin some cream containing cocoa butter would be best. Rub the emollient into one hand with the finger tips of the other, begin at the finger tips working it well around the edges of the nails, then with a rotory motion rub back towards the knuckles. Still with a firm, gentle, rotary movement work it into the back of the hand and palm over the wirst. Work on up the fore-arm to the elbow, but in this case use the whole hand, rubbing round and round the arm. While you are about it rub a certain amount of cream into the elbow, which always needs it.

Pat O.—You will be risking your eyesight if you put anything into the eyes to make them sparkle.

The Berries—Apply hot wet cloths over the blackheads each night. This will help to open pores, after which soften the impact by massaging with a cleansing cream. Scrub with a complexion brush using castile soap and warm water, followed by rinsing with very cold water, as this will close the pores again. Simplify your diet until you clear your skin of pimples, or eat more fruit and green vegetables.

H. E. H.—You may have attained your height at fifteen, and since you will be developing from this time, you will be so well proportioned that you will not be too tall after a few more years.

Mrs. S.—You can arrange your hair so the flat place in the back of head will not be seen. If there is not enough hair to make a coil to give this effect, use one of the ventilated wire forms under the coil.

Tomorrow—Hollow Shoulders

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

At Local Theatres

THE GLENDALE

"Loving Lies," adapted from Peter B. Kyne's "The Harbor Bar," is the Associated Authors' picture showing at the Glendale theatre today, with a cast headed by Monte Blue.

"Loving Lies" is woven around the adventures of Captain Dan Stover, a Pacific coast tug captain who, shortly after his marriage, protects the sweetheart of his first mate in an hour of need and nearly suffers the disruption of his own domestic happiness as a result.

Monte Blue, a former sailor in reality, gives the best performance of his brilliant career and makes the role of Captain Dan Stover seem more of an actual adventure than a piece of acting. Evelyn Brent plays opposite Mr. Blue, and Joan Lowell, an Associated Authors "find" plays a difficult part with much understanding, and refisters as all her sponsors have said of her talents. Charles Gerrard as the heavy, is also superbly cast.

THE GATEWAY

"The Humming Bird," a Sidney Olcott production, is the Paramount feature showing today, Friday and Saturday at the Gateway theater, with a superb cast headed by glorious Gloria Swanson.

The story is an adaptation of the stage play by Maude Fulton. The star has the role of Toinette, a girl of the Paris underworld, leader of the Apaches, whose undaunted courage makes her a heroic figure during the dark days of the World War, when Paris was threatened with invasion. She falls in love with Randall Carey, representative of an American newspaper. This furnishes the motivation for the story.

Toinette in her dual role of the "Humming Bird," is a hunted creature. Every crime committed in the Montmartre section is credited to "him," for, to all but her intimates, the "Humming Bird" is an extremely clever boy. She is too much for the authorities, though. The girl does great work in enlisting her associates into the Service of France, for which she is decorated with the Croix de Guerre.

Postmaster General New condemned as unwarranted the postal salary increases proposed in bills before congress.

This is the time of year when housekeeper renews her ors. To "touch up" a worn dwood floor, buy an oil stain lled "reviver") and rub this o the grayish worn spots, not ting it on the places which are l brown-colored and unworn. s oil stain darkens the gray- spots and you can then either them or give them a dull re by polishing with mixed al parts of linseed oil and tur- ine.

Sometimes, however, a floor ds bleaching before a new fin- is put on, as it has been dark- d from age. For a bleaching d, add one pound of quick- e to a potash solution made dissolving one pound of the ash in six quarts of cold water. potash removes the old fin- from the floor, and the quick- e bleaches the hardwood. Apply the mixture with a mop, as it will injure the skin of the hands. Even rubber gloves will not protect the hands from it. Leave this liquid on the floor for about fifteen minutes, till the old finish is soft, then go over the floor again with a mop wrung out of boiling water. Let dry well before applying a new finish.

If your floor is too light, on the contrary, and you wish to stain it a medium-light brown before refinishing, remove the old finish with the potash solution given above (omitting the quicklime), then, when dry, proceed as follows: either buy a good commercial stain, or dissolve one-fourth of a pound of potassium permanganate crystals (this is a deadly poison, so keep it away from children and pets) in four quarts of water; this solution turns brown soon after being mixed. Put it on the floor and let it dry well before applying the new finish.

This stain is also good to use on softwood floors. To to over a softwood floor, remove old finish with the potash solution mentioned above, then fill small cracks with putty, and wide cracks with the following: Paper Dough: crumple newspapers very soft, tear into bits, dampen one pound, then wet these tiny pieces to a paste with strong glue-size and knead to a dough. A little Plaster of Paris (poison) may also be added to this dough if desire, but is not necessary. Force this dough into the cracks and let dry. Then paint and varnish the floor. Or stain it with the potassium permanganate solution mentioned above, and finish it by waxing. Such a stained floor may be given a dull lustre by rubbing with mixed equal parts of linseed oil and turpentine. All three of these methods of finishing—that is, varnishing, waxing or oiling—may also be used on hardwood floors.

All inquiries addresed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. ## TIGERS CAPTURE SECOND GAME IN SERIES WITH L. A.

Doc Crandall Is Bested by Shellenbach; Salt Lake Plays In Snow

Doc Crandall, who turned in two wins for Marty Krug against Seattle, struck a large-sized root in the river bed yesterday afternoon when he essayed to repeat the performances against the Vernon Tigers. As in the opener Tuesday, Bill Essick's tribe amassed just five more runs than the Angels. Score 7 to 2.

Doc was outpitched by Shellenbach, and the Seraphs were outsmarted and outplayed. The Tigers hit with men on bases and rather showed up their city companions before the fans.

Not content with hurling good ball, the Vernon spitball artist clouted one over the left field fence in the fifth. McDowell followed later on in the same stanza with another, driving in a runner ahead of him and the game was on ice.

The Angels threw away several chances to score by poor baserunning. They got the worst of the breaks. Weinert, the southpaw, obtained from the Phillies, is due in today and will probably work in this series.

INDIANS 8, BEES 9

SALT LAKE, April 17.—In a game played on a field partly covered with snow, and in a temperature so cold that the pastimers needed mitts on both hands, the Bees nosed out a 9 to 8 victory over the Indians here yesterday. The score was tied at 8 all in the eighth, but Leslie and Sheehan, connecting for doubles, produced the winning run in the ninth.

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Much interest is being shown by southern golf enthusiasts in the final match to be played Sunday at the Annandale Country club between Willie Hunter, George Von Elm and Harolow Burley. Hunter finished under the two others mentioned Wednesday, but is given a great chance to come back and win the laurels in the final days of play.

Scores Sign Up for Handball Tournament

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Entries for the national Amateur Athletic union handball tournament poured into the offices of the officials thick and fast, resulting in some forty stars being signed to appear in the annual battle which opens on the courts of the Los Angeles Athletic club next week. Players from all over the west will take part in the annual affair. The list includes Joe Murray, present champion, who will represent the Olympic club here.

Ray French, Former Coast League Star, Goes to White Sox

Ray French, former Vernon shortstop, who went to the Brooklyn Dodgers, leaves today to join the White Sox, who secured him via the waiver route. French was one of the best fielding shortstops in the league, and hit around .275. In 1922 he set a Coast league record by handling 1185 chances in 200 games of ball. French is a former West Point athletic star, and will probably go right into the Sox line-up.

French played with the Glendale White Sox last Sunday and appeared to be in good shape.

ILLINOIS TRACK STARS EXPECTED TO TRIM BEARS

Intersectional Meet Next Saturday at Berkeley Is Big Event

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 17.—National intersectional contests are few and far between at the University of California and the track meet with the University of Illinois to be held on the California Oval April 19 is arousing much comment and speculation among the students and the general public.

The outcome of this meet is not to be predicted. Comparative times and records afford very little basis for "dope."

So far this season Coach Walter Christie's men have decisively defeated the University of Southern California and the Olympic Club. The remaining time before the meet is to be spent in a diligent practice period wherein the Blue and Gold men will seek to better their condition and clip the times they have been establishing.

Barber is Sprinter

Jim Barber, California's sprinter, will meet two men from Illinois, Dud Evans and Bob Ayres, who have been consistently equalling his best time. Evans has been negotiating the 100 yards in 9 4-5 while Barber has been doing 9 9-10. In the 220 both men have been doing 21 4-5. Shepherd and Farnsworth, Barber's running mates are figured to place in at least one of the events for both these men have been improving steadily and giving Barber a hard time to breast the tape in the lead.

In the distances, Illinois looks formidable. In the 440 run, Smuts is doing 50 4-5; Bruington, 51; and Carter 51 6-10. Hurst of California has been doing the quarter in 51. Geertz, Aggeler and Willi will also run for the Blue and Gold.

In the 880, Bruington of Illinois is doing 1:58 4-5, Hall 2:00 1-5 and Craham 2:01. Chase of California is doing the 880 in 1:59 6-10. McMillan, De Beaumont, Pierce, Siems and Germly will run for the Bruins in the half mile.

Hall Star Miler

Hall is the Illinois star in the mile, establishing a new indoor record this year of 4:23 6-10. Ross Kitss and Dunn are making around 4:38 for California in this event.

Mieher of Illinois set a new conference record in the two mile. The time was 9:41. California's most likely men in this event are Jensen, Turner and Knowlton. Jenson is nearing the 10 mark and should make it in the coming meet.

The hurdles are scheduled to break either way. Becker of California is doing the low sticks in 24 6-10 and the high ones in 15 4-10. Captain Johnson of Illinois and Kensey and Rehm have been doing around the same time.

Edge on Fields

The field events give the edge to California. Boren in the broad jump is now jumping 22 feet 10½ inches and should win the event. Sweeney and Wallace of Illinois have been doing 22 feet 5 inches.

The high jump should go to Wright of Illinois who has been jumping 6 feet 3 inches. California will enter Witherspoon, Koblic and Garrett for its points in this event.

In the weight events Illinois will meet some mighty tough competition in the person of Captain William Neufeld. He has been throwing teh discus close to 140 feet, the shot over 47 feet and the javelin 185 feet. Lang and Francis are also doing good work for the Bruins in the weights.

The Illinois prospects look very good. They are coming out west with veterans and stars who have made names for themselves in previous track meets. This year the California team has been built up out of raw material and has developed into a good team under the tutelage of Coach Walter Christie. The Illinois men will meet a California team which is imbued with the same spirit and fight of Blue and Gold teams of years gone by. It will be a most exciting and interesting meet which will be held on the California Oval Saturday afternoon April 19.

Honolulu Club Wants To Join Association

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—According to word reaching Los Angeles yesterday the Healani Yacht and Boating club of Honolulu has made application for membership in the Pacific Coast Yachting association. A letter, received by Admiral Soiland of the coast organization from Commodore Westcott of the island club asks permission to acquire membership, and the name of their club will be changed to an association.

Oven-birds build their nests on the ground, then cover them with dead leaves, making it almost impossible to find them.

SOME FAST ONES

Hurled by Al Dix

Just where is all this baseball business going to end? Each successive year records for attendance are broken at the opening games, and Tuesday 217,000 fans pushed, elbowed and crowded their way into eight ball parks to see the sixteen contenders for the pennant go into action. Just think of it, nearly a quarter of a million attending on the opening day.

A decade ago a prediction of this record would have been hailed as the raving of a baseball demented mind. The Yankees, spending two million dollars for a new stadium that will seat around 70,000 will probably have a sell out when the world's champions open their season at home.

But with the increased receipts, the expenses also are mounting. Players cost more, everything is more expensive. Miller Huggins recently stated that it took $7,000 a day to run the new Yankee park. That figure does not exceed by so very much what other magnates have to put out.

The appointment of Judge Landis as supreme dictator revived the waning faith of the American people in the national game and it is booming as never before. Baseball is a wonderful game when played on the square, and instances where it was not are very rare.

Howard Ehmke, a product of the Glendale high school, Waite Hoyt, hero of the world's series of 1922, and Bob Shawkey are all deserving of sympathy and commendation for their work in the first game between the Red Sox and Yankees at Boston, but especially Ehmke.

The Glendale boy held the hard hitting Yanks to five hits, which in itself is some feat. In addition, however, he drove out the single in the sixth which scored Shanks with the lone Red Sox tally. He certainly deserved to win.

But while he was doing all this Shawkey was holding the Sox to two hits in seven innings. The two innings Hoyt worked he did not allow a safe hit. So who deserved the victory? Ehmke took his defeat like a gentleman, and only smiled when Bill Wambsganss, the triple play hero of the 1920 world's series, fumbled two rollers in the ninth that allowed the Yanks to score two runs and win the ball game. Some game, that first one at Boston. Even New York could not grudge Ehmke a win.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati are certainly fighting it out in Garry Hermann's village. After scuttling the Pirate ship in the opener, 6 to 5, the Reds went down with colors flying yesterday in a wonderful pitchers' battle between Cooper and Luque, last year the best pitcher in the National league. The score was 1 to 0.

He held the Reds to five hits which he kept well scattered, while the Pirates gathered eight off of Cooper. As is usual, the winners got the breaks. In a game as close as this, breaks count for a lot. If the luck had been the other way probably the Reds would have made it two straight.

The fans in Cincy have witnessed two splendid ball games. No wonder records are being broken every day.

For some of the majors there might just as well have been no winter. Boston, in both leagues, and Philadelphia ditto, started out right where they left off last year.

Pacific Coast fans will watch with a great deal of interest as to what Paul Strand, the slugging Bee outfielder of last year, will have in lifting the Athletics out of the cellar, if they get out. Chances are rather dubious, but the Red Sox may burrow deeper in the mud than Connie Mack's bunch.

In the National League, after struggling listlessly along for eleven innings to a 6-6 tie, the Braves and the Phillies managed to settle it yesterday, Boston winning 4 to 3. It took them ten innings to do this. The Pirates, or the Reds, could probably beat them both in about two innings.

All opening games, with two exceptions, were uniformly close and peppy exhibitions, remarkably so for the season of the year. Not for many seasons have the teams gotten away as good as as they have this year. If they can keep up the pace, coffers will be full to overflowing when the curtain is rung down at the end of the year.

SPORT SPARKS

Favorite sport topic during week was post-mortem discussion of Firpo's alleged retirement. When petrified promoters heard that Luis was candidate for Old Men's Home they raised ante by $50,000, proving that Wild Bull is dumb like a fox when rattle of shekels is heard in the distance.

Doping out pennant winners was popular sport with scribes. Sleepy City writer picked Phillies to win. He had to or lose his job. Boston expert wasted two quarts of energy and five sheets of copy paper by nominating Braves to bring home the pigs knuckles.

Rookies at training camps began to use their return trip tickets to San Francisco and points west. Like morning-glories in Alaskan hothouses, they are leaving us one by one.

Paddock Equals Own World Record for Century While Practicing

Charley Paddock's injured ankle is no more, for the Pasadena boy, who is world sprint champion, has tied his own record of 9 3-5 seconds for the 100-yard dash while practicing in Hollywood.

Under the supervision of Janss Anderson, University of Southern California track trainer, Paddock hopes to get into good enough condition to break this record at the Olympic games in Paris this summer. In fact, Charley hints he may turn the trick at the Drake relays in Des Moines, April 26.

TAGGING ALL BASES

By International News Service.

Jack Quinn, the ancient salivary gland, defied age and Babe Ruth for nine full innings and the Yankees finished second to the Red Sox 9 to 6. Quinn confined the champions to six hits, of which Ruth got not one in five trips to the plate.

Although that hapless invalid, George Sisler, delivered three hits and fielded perfectly, he couldn't lift his Browns above the level of two runs and the White Sox gained a 3 to 2 decision, thanks to the tenth inning single by Eddie Collins.

The Giants came back against the Dodgers, scoring a seven to one victory through the laudable pitching of Jack Bentley.

Max Carey hastened in with the lone run of the Pirate-Red game in the ninth. He singled off Luque, advanced over Higbee's sacrificial remains, stole third and scored on Traynor's single.

The much ballyhooed left digit of Earl Whitehill turned the Indians inside out and the Tigers coasted in by a score of five to one.

The Cubs trifled with Haines and three other St. Louis pitchers for a matter of seven hits and won in a romp, 13 to 4. Alexander, hit hard, made Hornsby tap into a force out and Bottomley into a double play with the bases filled and none out in the seventh.

Rommell was entirely too good and Mogridge entirely too bad, in consequence of which the Athletics took a fall out of the Senators.

There is much joy in Mudville for Casey, mighty Casey, the rollicking Stenger socked a run in the tenth, giving the Braves a four to three victory over the Phillies.

Portland has the youngest club in A. A. baseball. So sayeth Mons. Wm. Kenworthy, at times known as the Iron Duke, and again as the Old Woman. Mebbe so, but they have some of the oldest alibis in the book.

The Duke says that his gang will only lead the league in hitting this year, which proves that Portland has a lot of apple sauce as well as youth.

MONEY NEEDED TO SEND MEN ABROAD

Olympic Committee Is Broke After Meeting Second Payment on Boat

By DAVIS J. WALSH,
For International News Service

NEW YORK, April 17.—Faced with the responsibility of supporting the American Olympic team in the style to which it is accustomed, the Olympic committee today volunteered information that was tantamount to the plea that it is bordering on a state of insolvency. The committee, in as few words as possible, stated that it was broke after paying a second installment of $40,000 on the steamship America.

The third installment is due on May 15, and in speaking of this delicate matter, the committee inferred that it might have to clutch a tin cup firmly between forefinger and thumb, don blue goggles and go out on the highways for the money that the American public seems too reluctant to advance. The committee seems to fear that patriotism will not come to a boil before June 16, when the team is scheduled to sail for Paris.

Denuded of all superfluities, the committee's statement of the case follows:

"The second payment of $40,000 on the charter of the steamship America for the American Olympic team was made on Tuesday, April 15. Extreme difficulty was encountered in raising the funds to meet this payment, and the payment leaves the American Olympic committee without funds for its current work of preparation for the games."

The suggestion that Julius H. Barnes, treasurer of the committee, would not feel affronted by the receipt of contributions was issued with the statement, gratis.

The fact of the matter is that the committee could not paint the picture any blacker than it is with an application of tar. Unless the sum of $150,000 is on hand by June 1, the Olympic invasion will prove a failure before it begins, since present plans for the transportation of the team would have to be abandoned forthwith and makeshift arrangements substituted.

More Money Needed

Makeshift arrangements cannot be at Finland and the rest of the field at Paris. It is admitted by athletic experts that only 100 per cent in transportation and maintenance of Americans athletes will be acceptable.

On the date mentioned, the final payment on the ship will be due and failure to meet it will mean not only loss of the charter but all money previously paid on it. Not less than $60,000 additional will be needed at that time for the expense of construction and housing of the athletes on the other side. Meantime the expense of sending soccer, riding, river, polo, rifle, marathon and trap shooting teams abroad in advance of the main detachment must be met.

This cannot be done with daily subscriptions averaging less than $1,000 coming in from the entire country.

The French have lifted the ban on German prize fighters. The rest of the world should demand either an apology or an explanation.

Football players on the Fiji Islands do not wear shoes or any other protective football paraphernalia.

With the close of this season more than $100,000,000 will have been distributed to winning horses during the last twenty years.

FARM BLOC HEADS FIGHT FOR AID EXTENSION

Federal Assistance for Farmers Is Sought by Leaders In Senate

Because of the oil scandal, little attention is being attracted by the "farm bloc" of congress, which, a few months ago, held the center of the stage in Washington. Although their moves are not being crowned with publicity, the important figures in the bloc, particularly its leaders in the Senate, are still attempting to obtain further federal aid for the farmers.

Representations for immediate financial relief for agricultural sections which they declared were in dire need, were made to the president by Senators Magnus Johnson, Lynn Frazier, Charles H. McNary, Henrik Shipstead and Arthur Capper. They called in a body at the White House for a conference.

GLENDALE TYPIST IN THIRD PLACE

Miss Villa Bottsford Makes Creditable Showing In State Contest

Glendale was splendidly represented recently by Miss Villa Bottsford of the Glendale Union High school in the contest held by the Underwood Typewriter company. W. F. Oswald, special school representative of that company, writes to Mrs. Gertrude Ballard of the commercial department of the Glendale Union High school, commending Miss Bottsford's work in the following words:

"The complete results of the California state contest will not be ready for several days yet—it is quite a big task this year, as the report takes eight full sheets of legal size paper.

"Please allow me to congratulate you, Mrs. Ballard, on the very fine showing Miss Botsford made in the contest on Saturday. She wrote 1007 words with only four errors and had a net speed of 64 words per minute, with an accuracy percentage of .960, and got third place in Contest 4. I know that you, and Mr. Baker, and the student-body of Glendale High School will all be very proud of this very fine record Miss Bottsford has made.

"Please personally extend my hearty congratulations to Miss Bottsford for her very enviable and most creditable performance."

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

Unless new and rich oil fields are shortly to be opened up in this country—always a possibility but not a probability as the best informed observers hold—the time is not far distant when this country must look for exterior sources of oil in addition to the supplementation from Mexico. It is, therefore, on the side of an expanding consumption as against a production that is fairly certain not greatly to expand, that the prospect of adequate supplies for oil comes into question. Approximately 20 per cent more automobiles are to be operated this year than last year. Some small quantities
